BJP airlifts 'dark horse' for filing MLC nomination

BJP HIGH COMMAND DENIES TICKET TO BY VIJAYENDRA

The BJP's central leadership has ignored the recommendation made by party's Karnataka unit to field former Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa's son BY Vijayendra in the June 3 MLC polls. As his supporters began to criticise the decision of the high command, Vijayendra himself had to intervene to control the damage with an appeal on social media. He said power and position are not the ultimate objectives in politics.

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

WHEN 52-year-old Hemalatha Nayak, BJP State Secretary and former president of Koppal District BJP Mahila Morcha, woke up on Tuesday morning in Koppal, she had no clue what destiny had in store for her. As she was getting ready to leave for Haveri, where she was one among the in-charges for a party event, she received a call at 10 am from "a certain BJP leader" from Bengaluru asking her to rush to the state capital to be in time to file her nomination for Legislative Council elections by MLAs scheduled for June 3. She was asked to be at Vidhana Soudha before 3 pm on Tuesday, the deadline by which nominations had to be filed.

Hemalatha Nayak files her nomination for MLC polls in Bengaluru on Tuesday | EXPRESS

With the clock ticking, a baffled Hemalatha made her way to Bengaluru, but had to be airlifted by a helicopter from Tumakuru to Jakkur to beat the traffic to arrive at Vidhana Soudha at 2.15 pm — with just 45 minutes to spare.

Former minister Laxman Savadi, S Keshavaprasad and Chaluvadi Narayanswamy of BJP also filed nomination papers on Tuesday.

Although speculation was rife about finalising the names of Geetha Vivekananda, BJP Mahila Morcha President, and C Manjula, BJP spokesperson and former chairperson of the Karnataka State Women's Commission, Hemalatha turned out to be the dark horse.

Nagaraja Yadav and Abdul Jabbar of Congress and TA Sharavana of JDS also filed nominations for the June 3 elections to the council. CONTINUED ON: P4

BJP fumes as Rahul meets known India baiter Corbyn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi's meeting with British MP Jeremy Corbyn, who is known for his 'anti-India' views, in London has snowballed into a controversy back home.

Rahul, who is on a visit to the UK, had met Corbyn on Monday and the Indian Overseas Congress shared a photo of the two along with Sam Pitroda, a close aide of the Gandhis.

Demanding a clarification from the Congress, the BJP on Tuesday alleged the photo is Rahul's endorsement of Corbyn's position on Kashmir.

"Rahul Gandhi meets UK MP and Labour leader Jeremy Corbyn who is known for his hatred and dislike for India, advocates Kashmir's secession. For how long and how much one can go on against one's own country," tweeted Union minister Kiren Rijiju.

BJP's national spokesperson Gaurav Bhatia said Rahul is a leader whose statement was once quoted by Pakistan in the dossier submitted to the UN against India. "The picture in which Rahul Gandhi is seen with Corbyn shows how Gandhi scion loves to be with those who nurture anti views against India", Bhatia said.

Defending the meeting, Congress chief spokesperson Randeep Surjewala said there is nothing unsual in political leaders having divergent meetings. Surjewala also shared a picture of Corbyn with PM Modi and asked, "Does it mean PM has endorsed Jeremy Corbyn's views on India?"

India-US thrust on critical and emerging tech

Want our ties to be closest on Earth: Biden

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

AMID US President Joe Biden assuring Prime Minister Narendra Modi during their meeting in Tokyo that he is committed to make the bilateral partnership the closest on earth, the two sides announced the launch of a new initiative on critical and emerging technologies (iCET) by their respective National Security Councils.

India also joined the Combined Maritime Forces (CMF) based in Bahrain as an associate member. The CMF is a naval coalition of over 30 countries that upholds rules-based order by countering non-state actors on the high seas and promoting security, stability and prosperity across the world's most important shipping lanes.

A White House readout of the talks said both also noted the establishment of the Indo-Pacific partnership for maritime domain awareness, which plays a critical role in economic security and responding to humanitarian crises.

"There is so much our countries can do together and I am committed to make the India-US partnership the closest on earth," Biden said.

Both leaders reviewed the progress made in the India-US Comprehensive Global Strategic Partnership wherein they are committed to strengthen their defence partnership and collaborate on health and pandemic preparedness.

"Even though trade and investment between the two countries is expanding it still is much below our potential, the India-US Strategic Partnership is a partnership of trust. Our shared values and our common interests...have strengthened the bonds of this trust," Modi said adding that with the India-US Investment Incentive Agreement he hoped to see concrete progress.

"The US has overlooked India's stand on Russia, primarily to strengthen its position in the Indo-Pacific where they want to counter China and the threat it is posing to countries like Taiwan. Indo, too, has been putting forth its point on the Chinese military built up around the LAC," said an expert on India-US ties. P9

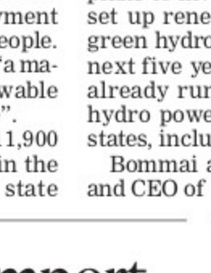
Govt lifts import duty on sunflower oil and soybean

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

AS part of its efforts to tackle mounting inflationary pressure, the Centre on Tuesday exempted import levy and cess on crude soybean oil and sunflower oil on a quantity of 20 lakh tonnes a year for two years.

At the moment, there is a 5% agricultural infrastructure and development cess for importing these items. The latest move could bring relief to consumers as it will cool cooking oil prices. The government has already scrapped base customs duty on almost all edible oils, including palm oil and soybean oil, and imposed inventory limits to curtail hoarding.



The decision comes in the backdrop of oil prices jumping as much as 17% last month. The overall retail inflation in April stood at a high 7.8%.

India is one of the top im- porters of vegetable oil in the world. Prices of edible oils skyrocketed after the Ukraine-Russia war started and Indonesia put a ban on palm oil exports.

In another development, the Centre also restricted sugar exports to 100 lakh tonnes to maintain enough domestic supply and prevent rise in prices. "Sugar mills and exporters need to take approvals in form of Export Release Orders from Directorate of Sugar, Department of Food and Public Distribution," a government statement read.

DRAIN COLLAPSES, 4 WORKERS INJURED

Labourers were standing on roof of SWD, when it was overloaded with cement and collapsed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOUR workers were injured after the slab of a stormwater drain (SWD), on which they were standing, collapsed in Kalidasa Layout, near Srinagar, on Tuesday morning.

While three workers – Hasibul, Rehman Mondal and Shibu Pradad -- sustained bruises and were treated as outpatients, Mir Khasim (24) sustained injuries and is undergoing treatment in hospital. All four are from Kolkata.

The incident took place around 11am, when around eight labourers were engaged in construction of the SWD, about 30 feet above the ground. The four workers were standing on the slabs and concreting the roof. Meanwhile, other workers were dumping cement on the slabs, and allegedly overloaded them, causing the structure to collapse.

Vinod Kumar, an eyewitness, said the four workers fell from a height of around 30 feet. "The slabs fell as the metal used for roofing crashed and the workers fell on the ground. Only one of them lost consciousness while the other workers escaped with bruises," he said.

Kumar and some other residents rushed to their help and entered the drain from the open side, to reach them. "While three of them managed to get up and move, we had to carry the fourth man. We made arrangements to shift him to hospital," he said.

Rehman Mondal told TNIE they had come to Bengaluru about three months ago and were working at the same site since then. "We had stopped work due to the rain last week, and resumed it two or three days ago. The other workers poured cement on the slabs on which we were standing, and they went down," he narrated.

BBMP Special Commissioner Tulasi Maddineni, who inspected the spot, said the BBMP Chief Commissioner has ordered an inquiry by the Technical Vigilance Cell under Commissioner (TVCC) into the incident. "The TVCC will collect samples of materials used in the construction to find out whether it was due to substandard work. The safety of the workers is the sole responsibility of the contractor. He will have to give an explanation, besides bearing the medical expenses of the injured, and reconstruction cost," she said.

The 900-metre SWD was being constructed at a cost of Rs 9.7 crore. It is alleged that the contractor had not followed the standards of construction. "It is a 30-ft SWD and the retaining wall must be 1.5 feet wide. But it is just nine inches," an official said.

BBMP mantra: Use pump, keep water out

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING inundation of houses during heavy downpour, those with basement areas in low-lying zones will be identified, and notice will be sent to them asking to purchase pumpsets to drain out water during floods.

Special Commissioner for Projects, PN Ravindra said that the as monsoon is just few days away, 30 HP power water pump sets mounted on wheels will be kept and orders have been given to purchase them. "The heavily impacted areas in vulnerable location may flood and we are appealing to the residents to prepare in advance during emergencies," said the official.

SWD emergency office to be decentralized

The Commissioner also informed that the storm water drain emergency office operating largely from Central zone will now be decentralized and quick response office will also be set up at other vulnerable areas.

This apart, the engineers concerned have been asked to clear silt from storm water drains for smooth flow of water during flash floods.

11,092 potholes in Palike area

A whooping 11,092 craters in the 857 sqkm area of Palike have been reported on the 'Fix my street' app. Ravindra stated that the work of fixing 5,119 potholes (40 per cent) is underway. Within one week of receiving the complaints, he said that standing instructions were given to zonal engineers concerned to fix the potholes and submit a status report to the Chief Commissioner.

East Zone allocated Rs 215 crore for devp work

East Zone has been allocated Rs 215 crore for development work especially for storm water drains, the commissioner said. The works would include desilting, retaining wall building, redesigning of structure, among others.

Shelter homes at low-lying areas

With over 175 red zone areas under BBMP which are prone to flooding during heavy rains, the BBMP has decided to come up with measures to deal with during heavy monsoon. The Special Commissioner informed that the Palike will come up with temporary shelter homes to house the residents after evacuation. The community and marriage halls will be converted into temporary shelters during monsoon.

BMRCL gets indigenously built Metro trains

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

FIRST indigenously built coaches of Namma Metro have been recently given the green signal to be inducted into operations by the Railway Board. The seven brand new trains with 42 coaches, readied by BEML, are stationed at Peenya. The Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL) now has a fleet of 57 trains with six cars each. They will be mainly used on the Baiyappanahalli-Whitefield line, which is set to be launched by year-end.

The Railway Board communicated to the BMRCL director on May 18 that the coaches have been cleared to run at a maximum speed of 80kmph. It has also given permission to use the rolling stock for the Purple and Green Line corridors.

A top Metro source said, "While the bogey was readied by Hyundai ROTEM in our previous trains, the latest batch has been made by BEML and some together too. At least 65 per cent of parts in these coaches are Made in India."

Each coach costs Rs 8.5 crore. RDSO, Lucknow, had conducted stringent tests and given speed certification on November 25, 2021. The Commissioner of Metro Rail Safety had given its authorisation on March 4, 2022.

BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez said, "We will utilise these trains for the Baiyappanahalli-Whitefield line and between Kengeri and Challaghatta"

ART OF SAYING SORRY

Mystery graffiti artists seek forgiveness

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

AN extremely apologetic pair of graffiti artists on Monday night sprayed the word 'SORRY' at least a hundred times on the compound wall of a private college, and the road leading to it from Magadi Main Road, in Sunkadakatte, Bengaluru West.

The 'Sorry' story became the hot topic of discussion on Tuesday: Who did it and why? Who is sorry and for what? Has he been pardoned? The work of art also became the subject of many videos and photographs, and went viral too. But the college principal was not too amused, and reported the matter to the police. They had not spared the steps and walls of other buildings either, repeating the word 'Sorry'.

The incident is said to have happened on between 11pm and midnight on Monday. Two men in the guise of food delivery agents are said to be behind it. Police have started their hunt for the artists. A college staffer told TNIE that the police have checked the college CCTVs for clues. "The visuals are not clear. The incident happened between 11pm and 11.30pm. From the main road, the connecting road to the college is around 400m. For about 100m, the person has sprayed the word 'Sorry' more than 100 times. After 100m, the same word is found. At two places, they sprayed 'SORRY PA, SORRY MA'. The two appear to be dressed like food delivery agents. As of now, the role of students cannot be established. The person sitting pillion is wearing a bandage on one of his hands," the staffer added.

COMMUNITY FEEDBACK INTEGRAL IN DISASTER MITIGATION

BENGALURU: With efforts to ensure that authorities are prepared to handle disasters following heavy rain, one of the areas which is ignored is the feedback from communities, said Sarabjit Singh Sahota, an Emergency Specialist with Unicef. Speaking at a workshop on monsoon preparedness organised by Sphree India, he said the mechanism of community feedback is required to ensure that people are getting help. Each region has its specific problems and they should be addressed based on the requirement of that place. Community feedback has worked well in tribal locations in north-west regions of India and should be replicated in other places also. Himshi Jamil Husain, Head, Biodiversity, Tata Steel Limited, said that corporate firms should support and help in capacity building, skill development and bringing in perspective. Citing the example of road safety, he said that corporates can help in ensuring that there is minimal damage to vehicles especially of their employees. Omkar Khare, State Consultant, Disaster Management, Maharashtra said that involvement of NGOs in disaster management must be made an integral part which was successfully accomplished in Kerala.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

25th May: We're passing through an excellent period potentially. It's a time for hope and faith in the future. If I could offer any general advice, then it would be to double-check all practical details. And then treble-check. And then check again. We can never be too careful. And, if we do take care then success could be all the more dramatic when it finally comes. Reckless ness is to be avoided!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The risky planetary situation is compounded by lunar formations which create confusion. One option you may wish to consider today is to turn down lively opportunities and go for peace and quiet. A few minutes of cool contemplation or meditation could help you work out what your true purpose is.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Listen to experienced colleagues. Unless you follow cautious advice, you may find that plans or projects already in the pipeline may have to be abandoned because of others' lack of support and assistance. I think you're finding it easier to stand on your own feet, though.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The correct way for you to go at the moment is towards ethical actions and high standards. Be graceful if others offend you and be charitable if you see that they are in need of your help. Events at work may be just a little muddled, but that's precisely why your clarity of mind will be so useful.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
However much you would like to be the centre of attention, if you are a typical Cancerian you will find it very difficult to be truly selfish this week. Something keeps pulling you back to the need to put others' interests first. And that has to be a good thing!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Mercury's position is still favourable, so what you find out could place an old situation in a new light. In fact, it indicates that you are entering a rather charming phase. If at all possible, please do put extra energy into all professional aspirations.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The Moon is aligned with your seventh solar house, the repository for all Virgoan feelings of partnership and relatedness. In plain English you'd better get on with other people - or else! If you offend someone you might find that they don't fight back - they just give up.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Nobody understands better than you that sometimes, like now, it is prudent to walk away from upsetting situations. You should also observe the old adage that it is best to be magnanimous in victory. That, after all, is the way to turn defeated rivals into permanent friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Quite aside from the difficulties posed by planets influencing both domestic and professional sectors of your chart, others, influencing travel and adventure are utterly favourable. Surprisingly, emotional complications may put you on the right track.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
As Venus, planet of love, departs from its cautious, careful position, a number of points may be cleared up. For a start, older friends are the best, especially where money is concerned. Team up with people who are more experienced than you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
No matter how hard you try to control your financial affairs, you always seem to end up somehow failing to maximise your profits. This is very much an all-or-nothing situation. Hopefully you're a winner rather than a loser. In fact, I'm sure you are!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Life has certainly been an up-and-down experience lately. I know that you may find it hard to believe, but something truly worthwhile will emerge from all the struggles you are going through. You can only go up if you've been down first. Great things await!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You're in a strong position, even though you're just a little more emotional than usual. Let others make the running. There is no need for you to dive in first, if you feel that the waters of life are looking rather too risky. A Fish you may be, but you must still watch out for sharks.

WhatsApp chatbot will help people with fungal infection

To improve adherence to treatment, give pill reminders, awareness

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

AN Indian multinational pharmaceutical company has launched India's first Whatsapp-based chatbot to help patients suffering from fungal infections. The digital tool 'Hello Skin', in collaboration with the Indian Association of Dermatologists, Venereologists and Leprologists (ADVL) is said to help patients suffering mainly from ringworm or tinea infection in India. It is caused by a fungus, not a worm, like the name suggests.

The chatbot helps patients in not only improving adherence to topical/systemic recommended therapy with daily pill reminders, but also creates disease awareness and provides skincare tips to patients suffering from ringworm infection. It provided assistance in six regional languages.

Alok Malik, Group Vice-President and Head, India Formulations, Glenmark Pharmaceuticals Ltd, said, "Digital patient inclusion for better disease management is the way forward in healthcare. This initiative will improve disease education and patient adherence to fungal therapy. IADVL's collaboration with Glenmark for developing this innovative solution, further adds to its credibility amongst dermatologists and patients."

SYMPTOMS
Dermatophytosis or ringworm infection is a contagious infection of the skin or scalp, characterised by ring-like rashes on the body or face
It spreads through direct contact with infected skin or fungal spores that can live on fabrics, clothing, couch cushions, bedding etc
Fungus can thrive in damp environments like locker rooms and public showers

Dr Rashmi Sarkar, President, IADVL, says that fungal infections have become one of the most difficult infections to treat in recent times, with patients reporting feelings of depression and isolation due to the associated social taboo. The recent prevalence of Dermatophytosis in India has reached 78.4 per cent.

Dr Manjunath Shenoy, Coordinator, IADVL Special Interest Group on Recalcitrant Dermatophytosis, said, "Creating awareness about this infection is very critical as it can spread easily from one person to another. It requires patients to adhere to the recommended therapy in a timely manner, for successful treatment. I think this chatbot is a new way to help patients in times where digitisation has become an integral part of our lives."

Dermatologists say they are perplexed with the recurring nature of the disease. Although there are multiple oral and topical treatments available, dermatologists stress on the importance of patients' adherence to treatment and avoidance of steroid abuse for success.

Dr Abhiram R, Consultant Dermatologist, Vasavi Hospital, says, "Every third person I see is reporting this infection. It gets worse during summer and monsoon. Lack of proper treatment, use of over-the-counter medication, and lack of hygiene has added to the burden of this infection."

Bus conductor 'slaps' woman, held

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A KSRTC bus conductor is in trouble for allegedly assaulting a woman passenger in the wee hours of Tuesday near Dasarahalli bus stand. The incident occurred when the 39-year-old victim, travelling from Koppa along with her two kids, was getting down. As it took some time for her to alight, an argument reportedly broke out between her and the conductor Ravi Kumar, when he is alleged to have slapped her.

Enraged, the woman called the police control room. The patrolling police, who reached the spot, secured the conductor and handed him to the jurisdictional Bagalagunte police station. The conductor has not only been arrested under Section 354 of IPC (assaults or uses criminal force to any woman, intending to outrage or knowing it to be likely that he will thereby outrage her modesty), but has also been suspended by KSRTC officials.

Kumar works in KSRTC's Bengaluru Central division and was the conductor of the sleeper bus plying from Sringeri to Bengaluru.

"An unnecessary argument ensued between her and the conductor which led the latter to assault her. Based on the complaint, a case has been registered against the conductor and he has been kept under suspension with immediate effect pending enquiry. Safety of women passengers is KSRTC's top priority. KSRTC deeply regrets the incident. KSRTC's senior officers have personally met and spoken to the victim and have ap0logised," read a KSRTC statement.

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

A 35-year-old quality controller of a private firm was attacked with lethal weapons by four miscreants over an escalated road rage incident. The victim, Rafiq Ahmed, a native of Kalaburagi district and a resident of Bidadi, is undergoing treatment at a hospital in Kengeri.

According to police, Ahmed was returning to his room with his friends after having dinner, when the accused on a two-wheeler brushed against the victim. Ahmed advised them to ride carefully.

An enraged accused and his friend in the pillion left the spot and returned with two of their friends and attacked Ahmed and fled from the spot.

"The victim and his friends claim to have not seen the registration details of the two vehicles of the accused. Ahmed has claimed that he lost his mobile phone in the incident. The accused are aged between 25 and 30 years," said the police.

Offence committed by firm, partner can't be bifurcated: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

DECLINING to quash the criminal proceedings against the partner of a firm, the Karnataka High Court ruled that an offence committed by the firm is also an offence committed by the partners and partners and the firm cannot be bifurcated.

Justice K Natarajan passed the order, declining to quash the criminal proceedings against chartered accountant Sanjay Sreesha, who is running NDS & Company, initiated by the Serious Fraud Investigation Office (SFIO), Ministry of Corporate Affairs, before the Special Court for Economic Offences in the city, under Sections 209A and 240(3) of the Companies Act. The firm is not a registered company and it was appointed as the auditor of Mega City (Bangalore) Developers.

The court noted that the petitioner's arguments are not applicable to the case and the criminal proceedings cannot be quashed against him. The trial court rightly took the cognisance against the petitioner for the offence punishable under Section 240(3) of Companies Act. The petitioner is required to answer the queries or information sought by SFIO. He cannot state that he is appointed as an employee and he is not a firm, the court said.

Alleging that Sreesha failed to appear despite three summons in 2011 and he had sent a reply that he was not employed as auditor of the company, SFIO filed the private complaint against him and the trial court took cognisance.

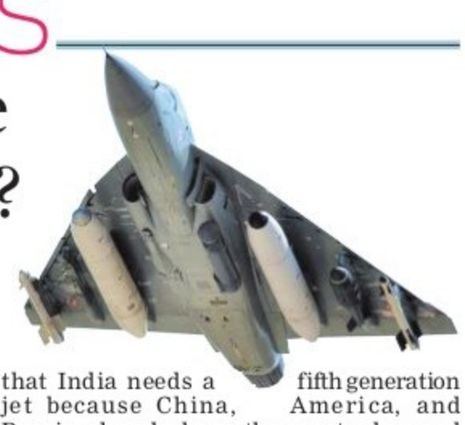
Can India Afford to Focus More on AMCA than the Tejas Series?



GIRISH LINGANNA

The Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) missing its deadlines is nothing new. The reasons could be genuine, but the delay is a hard reality. There is speculation that instead of rolling out Tejas Mark2 in August-September 2022, it could be pushed to 2023. The production is likely to begin somewhere around 2025.

Despite all these odds, the Tejas MK2 is bound to make India proud because it is a home-grown multirole combat jet which stands along with many of the best in the world. While seeing the plight of Ukraine now, it becomes even more important as to why India has to fasten its projects to become self-reliant. Of course, India can't leapfrog in technology to compete with America, China, Israel, or Russia. A decade ago, India remained complacent when it came to spending time and money to modernise the armed forces. But things are changing now, with Atmanirbhar Bharat becoming the mantra.

But for the policy paralysis for years, the LCA project products would have made it to the global market. The Indian government cleared a project to develop a new LCA in 1983. It was supposed to replace the Russian MiG-21s. They have overshot the expiry date but are still in use in India. The first prototype of the LCA took to the air only in 2001. India's quest for an indigenous jet engine took many years. The IAF bought the first aircraft in 2013 and it was supposed to operate in 2019. In 2021, the Union Cabinet Committee on Security gave its nod to procuring 83 Tejas LCAs by spending Rs 48,000 cr. These include 73 Mark 2A. The next in the series is the Tejas MK2.

The Tejas MK2, a single-engine aircraft, was designed by the Bengaluru-based Aeronautical Development Agency (ADA) and HAL. The 4.5-generation Tejas is projected as one of the four leading light combat aircraft (LCA) in the world. A lot of buzz is around this new series of LCA. It has been reported that seven squadrons of the Tejas MK2 are going to be inducted into the service in the years to come. A whole lot of technical reviews have been completed to make them suitable for integration.

Significance of Tejas MK2

It is a variant of the Tejas MK1 and MK1A. The new breed is designed to address the shortcomings noticed by the IAF in the earlier fighters. The journey to develop the Tejas MK2 under the LCA series began way back in 2009. Over the years, the design has evolved and now stands as a new medium-weight class fighter. The foreign components that comprised the Tejast Mark IA had been replaced by indigenous components in the Mark II.HAL has outsourced not less than 25% of the work to private entrepreneurs.

The Tejast MK2 has the ability to carry a payload of 6,500 kg, double that of the earlier version. It would be guided by the Uttam Active Electronically Scanned Array (ASEA) radar and infrared search. The radar is a "Made in India" product. The radar is said to be more advanced than the Israeli-made radars used by the earlier Tejas series.It is said that the home-grown radar can counter enemy electronic warfare attempts.

One of the pluses of the jet is an onboard oxygen generation system. It will feature heavy weapons, a continuously monitored health and transmission system, and a high-definition touchscreen giving a wide area display of 50cm x 20cm. With these and other advanced features, it would compete with the Swedish Saab JAS 39 E/F Gripen, China's Chengdu J-10 and JF-17, a joint venture between China and Pakistan.The best part of the Tejas MK2 would be its lower cost compared to the price of the Gripen. If the Indian government devotes enough focused attention to the Tejas new variant, India will be able to compete with China and even enter the export market.

Tejas MK2 or AMCA

But there are suggestions that the IAF should think futuristically and should settle for Advanced Medium Combat Aircraft (AMCA), the stealth fighter jets. This means these aircraft are invisible to radar. It is difficult for radars to see stealth aircraft at longer distances. The Tejas MK2 is not a stealth aircraft. The AMCA is a fifth generation fighter jet.

Cost-wise, the Mark2 is expensive despite being indigenous. It stated that each would cost at least $100 million, making them comparable to or slightly more expensive than the Gripen.It would take at least a decade for the Mark2 to join the defence fleet.By that time, they would be at least a generation behind the world's best jet fighters. China reportedly has two fifth generation fighter jets. It is not that India has not spent money on the LCA programme. It has already cost the exchequer Rs 10,000 cr. The cost of 83 Mark1 would be Rs 45,000 cr.

There are arguments that it is better to spend money on developing AMCAs given the cost and future requirements. The Mark2 jets would be ready in a decade's time. They would replace the MiG-29 Jaguar and Mirage after 13 to 15 years. Inducting the fourth generation jets by then would be a pragmatic decision, is the argument. There is no doubt that India needs a fifth generation jet because China, America, and Russia already have the most advanced ones.

Who can change the priorities of the government?

The capacity lies with the IAF. The AMCA did not get much attention because of the LCA project. In March 2022, the HAL Chairman and Managing Director, R. Madhavan, said that both ADA and HAL, the design partners of AMCA, are looking into the project's progress. This indigenous fifth generation fighter would have features such as stealth, internal weapons, super cruise, etc. He had announced that a special-purpose vehicle would be launched involving DRDO, HAL, and private investors.

The work on the AMCA has begun with the DRDO commencing metal cutting for the first prototype of the AMCA. In March 2022, Minister of State for Defence Ajay Bhatt told the Rajya Sabha that the fifth generation fighter aircraft were costlier than the fourth generation. However, they would be less expensive because they are indigenous as compared to those produced by other advanced countries. By the time India prioritises the AMCA, it will probably be a generation old. In this way, India would always be lagging behind the jets, both stealth and non-stealth.

In the minister's reply, the answer to go with the Tejas MK2 is available. For a country like India, spending heavily on the military is a tough challenge. According to the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI), India stands in third place in the world when it comes to military spending. It was $76.6 billion in 2021, up by 0.9% from 2020 and 33% from 2012. Though it has occupied the third slot in the chart, the US and China is spending far more than India to occupy the first and second places, respectively. While the US' military spending was $801 billion in 2021, China's was $293 billion.

Comparing India to the US or China could be like comparing an orange to an apple. There is no levelling up. India can achieve cost-cutting in the defence sector only by encouraging R & D and indigenous manufacturing.

BL Santhosh's stamp all over BJP MLC candidate selection

June 3 elections a mere formality as the Big 3 field leaders as per their Assembly numbers

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THERE is BJP national general secretary BL Santhosh's stamp all over BJP's ticket selection for the Legislative Council elections which was announced on Tuesday.

The party has picked Hemalatha Nayak from ST, Chalavadi Narayanswamy from SC, S Keshav Prasad from the backward Kuruvina Shetty community and Laxman Savadi from the dominant Lingayat community, covering the core constituency of BJP. (It may be recalled when the BJP rebels held a meeting at Palace Grounds, against BS Yediyurappa, Keshav Prasad was one of the key organisers.)

As the names were announced at the last minute on Tuesday, the candidates collected their B-forms from their respective party presidents and submitted their nomination papers at Vidhana Soudha before the deadline of 3 pm.

JDS' selection of T Sharavana for the lone MLC seat is no surprise as his name was doing the rounds. Sharavana being classified a backward as he belongs to the Arya Vaishya community is only incidental as out of the seven MLC candidates from all the three parties, three belong to backward communities, two to SCs and STs, one Lingayat and one from the minority community.

BJP has ignored prominent aspirant BY Vijayendra. While Yediyurappa supporters blamed Santosh for this. state chief Nalin Kumar Kateel said the party had forwarded Vijayendra's name to the party central leadership after the state core committee meeting and the high command would have a solid reason to deny the ticket. Vijayendra also made a written request to his supporters not to blame anyone. Manjula a vokkaliga who was identified with the B S Yediyurappa camp has been ignored although her name figured in the core committee list. Lingaraj Patil, whose name too was proposed by the core committee, and BJP Mahila Morcha president Geetha Vivekananda too have been ignored.

The election is scheduled for June 3, but it will be a mere formality as it is a foregone conclusion that these candidates will be elected. Each candidate requires 29 votes and parties have fielded candidates according to their party numbers.

MLC CANDIDATES

Hemalatha Nayak

BJP Mahila Morcha leader from Koppal, belongs to the Scheduled Tribe Nayaka Community. Her claim to fame is sending kumkum to Congress leader Siddaramaiah when he made derogatory remarks on Kumkum. She is a first-timer.

Laxman Savadi

Served the previous term as an MLC and is also a 3-time MLA from Athani. He resigned as minister during the 2008-13 BJP government after he was accused of watching porn in the House. He is said to be close to party national general secretary BL Santhosh.

Keshav Prasad

Served as office secretary, is said to be close to many BJP leaders, including Santhosh. He belongs to a backward caste (Kuruvina Shetty). An advocate, he served in the High Court administration before quitting. He is a first-timer.

Chalavadi Narayanswamy

President of BJP Dalit Morcha, served in Congress for over a decade before quitting disillusioned. He is a first-timer.

TA Sharavana

A JDS spokesman, belongs to the backward Arya Vysya community. A money bag, he had served as MLC in the previous term. He refers to party patriarch HD Deve Gowda as Appaji and had started Appaji Canteen in a counter to Congress government's Indira Canteen. This will be his second term.

Nagaraja Yadav

Congress spokesman, belongs to the backward cattle herders' or Golla community. He was seeking to head the backward classes cell in Congress. He is a first-timer.

Abdul Jabbar

Congress Minority Cell Chairman, was backed by all Congress minority legislators except MLA Zameer Ahmed.

After convincing CM Ibrahim, JDS fields Sharavana

JDS renominated TA Sharavana for the lone MLC seat for the June 3 polls after convincing state party president CM Ibrahim, who was also in the race. Sharavana hails from the Arya Vysya community and also serves as the president of Karnataka Jewellers' Association. JDS had earlier planned to field him from the Basavanagudi Assembly seat where the community has considerable numbers. For the Rajya Sabha polls, the party is planning to field a candidate and a decision will be taken on May 27. The frontrunners are former Rajya Sabha member Kupendra Reddy and MLC BM Farooq, whose MLC term ends on June 17, 2024.

After supporters lambast BJP top brass, Vijayendra on damage control

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

SUPPORTERS of former chief minister B S Yediyurappa's son B Y Vijayendra led a scathing attack on social media against the BJP high command on Tuesday, after he missed the MLC nomination, despite his name being proposed by the BJP core committee.

They even alleged that the high command was using double standards in pointing out examples of dynastic politics. As the attack began to magnify, Vijayendra himself had to intervene to control the damage with an appeal on social media, "I would like to convey to all my well wishers that any unnecessary comments on social media and elsewhere not only damage the reputation of our party but also hurt the sentiments of BSY and myself."

"BSY has lived a disciplined life imbibed by RSS and dedicated himself for building and strengthening the party in Karnataka. His decades of struggle, blessings of the people, opportunities provided by the party paved the way for him to open the doors for the party in South India and made him CM on four occasions," he remarked.

The party high command will have a long-term vision for Karnataka BJP and the upcoming State elections. In the same way, they will decide rightly on my political path as well

BY Vijayendra

He also claimed that the party had encouraged him since he entered politics and suggested to his supporters that power and position are not the ultimate objectives, apparently referring to the MLC nomination and ministerial berth.

The BJP core committee had shortlisted 20 names for the four MLC seats, with Revenue Minister R Ashoka proposing Vijayendra's name. But the BJP Central Election Committee did not favour Vijayendra as Prime Minister Narendra Modi was particular about not encouraging family politics, sources said.

This could have an adverse impact on the party as Yediyurappa, who wished to see his son become MLC and join the Bommai cabinet, is upset. Bommai was also in favour of Vijayendra's nomination but the party high command had made its stand clear during his last visit to New Delhi, they added.

Hemalatha's nomination filing by far most dramatic

BUT Hemalatha's nomination filing was by far the most dramatic. Chandrashekar Gouda Patil Halageri, party leader from Koppal who accompanied Hemalatha from Koppal to Bengaluru, said after they got to know at 10 am on Tuesday, they left by car for Bengaluru at about 10.30 am. The distance between Koppala and Bengaluru is around 350 km, taking four hours and 30 minutes. "By the time we reached Tumakuru, it was already 1 pm," he said.

But the party made arrangements for a private helicopter to airlift Hemalatha to Jakkur aerodrome in Bengaluru. They had to wait for 20 minutes at Tumakuru before the chopper was ready. Although the distance between Tumakuru and Bengaluru is just around 70 km, it was the traffic on the road that was the most feared to delay them.

"When we landed in Jakkur, it was already 1.45 pm and from here we took a car to Vidhana Soudha where we reached at 2.15 pm. We were happy to make it on time," Halageri said.

BJP can comfortably ensure victory of four candidates, while Congress can get two of its candidates elected and JDS will get one seat. Hemalatha joined BJP in 2011 along with the present Koppal MP from BJP Sanganna Karadi. Both were earlier associated with JDS.

Hemalatha told TNIE that this was totally unexpected. "This shows how BJP recognises grassroot party workers even from a far off place like Koppal. The party recognised my work. Neither recommendations nor influence works here (in BJP), only the work," she said. She has a Bachelor of Arts degree, and is known for her organisational skills.

BJP MLA Ravi Subramanya, who was with Hemalatha while submitting her nomination, said by selecting her, the party has given importance to region, caste and cadre. "By picking a party worker, it will inspire many more," he said.

Congress candidate Nagaraja Yadav files his papers on Tuesday. He was accompanied by CLP leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC chief DK Shivakumar

BJP, Cong face discontent before June 3 poll battle

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AFTER BJP and Congress announced their list of candidates for the June 3 MLC elections, there has been discontent among those who did not make it. The leaders who were backing these candidates too are disappointed.

On Monday, Congress announced Abdul Jabbar and Nagaraj Yadav as its candidates. Among the aspirants were VS Ugrappa, Pushpa Amarnath and BL Shankar. There is displeasure over the candidate selection, especially of Jabbar as he will enter the Council for the third time. "Just because they represent a certain community, it does not mean others working for several years are denied a ticket," said a leader.

BJP too is facing discontent for its decision to nominate Basavaraj Horatti from the West Teachers' constituency. "If a new entrant gets the ticket, why should a common worker work for the party," a leader asked. Former MLC Mohan Limbikai, a close associate of former CM BS Yediyurappa, who was eyeing a ticket expressed his displeasure.

Saffronisation of textbooks only in Cong eyes: Nagesh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

EDUCATION Minister BC Nagesh on Tuesday hit out at the Congress for blaming the ruling BJP state government for saffronising textbooks. "In our view, there is no colour or politics in school textbooks," he said, saying saffronisation of textbooks was only in the eyes of the Congress. "They (Congress) see colour in everything. Congress fears that they will lose the vote of 'greens'. That is why they are saying textbooks are saffronised," he said.

Nagesh said the Congress, during its regime, used the education department for their vote bank. Coming down heavily on erstwhile Mysuru ruler Tipu Sultan, he said, "Is Tipu the only freedom fighter? Weren't Sangoli Rayanna, Kittur Rani Channamma and others freedom fighters?" he asked. He further said Tipu had no respect for Kannada. "Hyder Ali had Tipu betrayed Mysuru kings," he charged.

On the allegation that poet Kuvempu was disrespected in the revised textbook, Nagesh said the Congress was spreading a false narrative. "The Congress first said chapters pertaining to Tipu, Bhagat Singh and Narayana Guru were dropped. But when they realised that was not the case, they are making this new allegation. Opposition leader Siddaramaiah should apologise for spreading falsehood. We have actually added four lessons of Kuvempu that were dropped during Siddaramaiah's tenure as CM. Congress must first read and refer to the textbooks before making such false allegations," he said.

He reiterated that there is no question of revising the textbook again as they have already been printed.

Defending Rohit Chakrathirtha, who heads the textbook review committee, Nagesh said, "Police have submitted the 'B' report in that case where Rohit was accused of disrespecting the state anthem. 'B' report was given when Siddaramaiah was the CM."

Lessons not omitted, spread out over many classes: Baraguru

ENS @ Bengaluru

REFUTING allegations of Education Minister B C Nagesh that chapters on writers and warriors were removed in 2014, former chairperson of the Textbook Revision Committee Baraguru Ramachandrappa claimed that he had not omitted any lessons, but only reshuffled them to be included in textbooks of different classes. The leaders referred to are Kuvempu, Gandhi, Ambedkar, Kittur Rani Channamma, Sangolli Rayanna, Rani Abbakka, Madakari Nayaka and Kempegowda.

He said the write-ups by Kuvempu are in Class 7 and Class 10 Kannada textbooks. The poem 'Bharatha Bhoomi Namma Thaayi' which on the high school syllabus, has been included in the Class 7 text to imbibe feelings of patriotism from a young age. The Social Science textbooks of Class 7 and 10 have information on Gandhi, while the textbooks of Class 8, 9 and 10 have lessons on Ambedkar, Ramachandrappa said.

Lessons on Rani Abbakka, Kittur Rani Channamma, Sangolli Rayanna, Madakari Nayaka, Yelahanka Naadaprabhu and Immadi Kempegowda are part of high school Social Science textbooks, he added. The Class 7 text carries a chapter on Mysuru Wadiyars too, he said. "Only facts were included on Tipu Sultan or Veer Savarkar when the texts were revised. The criteria was to provide information, not biased and baseless details to children of primary and middle schools," he added.

"In 2014, as many as 27 committees comprising 172 experts revised the textbooks. I was not the only person who did it," he said.

EVS text not revised

Karnataka Text Book Society MD Madegowda MP clarified that the textbook revision committee led by Rohit Chakratheertha has not revised the Class 4 Environmental Studies textbook, and have not removed nine lines under the title of 'Kuppalli Venkatappa Puttappa' in the chapter 'Prthiyobbaroo Vishishta'.

SIDDU'S TAKE ON BEEF KICKS UP A STORM

BENGALURU: Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah's statement that he had not eaten beef, but nobody could stop him if he wanted to has been appreciated by his Ahinda supporters, but slammed by right wing activists. Many took to social media to criticise Siddaramaiah. But his followers pointed out that his stand has remained the same since 2020 when the government was considering a beef ban and introduced it in January 2021. It is about freedom of choice, and not about food, Siddaramaiah's supporters said. Siddaramaiah has maintained that BJP has brought in beef ban only to score political brownie points. He said the ban burdens farmers as they have to shell out `100 per day to look after a single head of cattle. ENS

A fight to save temples from submerging

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

AS a few historical temples in Mundargi are likely to get submerged with the implementation of the Singtalur lift irrigation project, the taluk is witnessing a series of protests demanding that the government take steps to protect the shrines.

Local MLA Ramanna Lamani has assured the protesters of taking measures to save the temples after holding talks with CM Basavaraj Bommai. Gummagol's Goni Basaveshwara temple, Bidaralli's Bidirellamma temple, and Vithalapur's Rasalinga temples, which were built in the 17th century, are likely to get submerged in the backwaters. Activists, history lovers, and residents of Mundargi taluk are protesting to save them.

The protests began a few years ago, and on Monday some villagers of Bidaralli, Vithalapur, Gummagol, and Mundargi protested in Koppal Circle of Mundargi.

"We want to save these temples for our future generation. We are not against the lift irrigation project," said a resident. Shirahatti MLA Ramanna Lamani said, "I will speak to the CM soon. Residents need not worry about the temples as I am confident of finding a solution at the earliest".

HC to govt: Hold ZP/TP poll exercise in 12 weeks

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE High Court on Tuesday directed the State Government to complete the exercise of delimitation and providing reservation to Other Backward Classes in 12 weeks for holding taluk and zilla panchayat polls. Within a week after that, the State Election Commission has to notify the poll process, the court ordered, clarifying that the government should complete the exercise in 12 weeks.

The court passed the order after hearing the petition by SEC in 2021, questioning the legality of the new law enacted to take away the powers of the commission to carry out the exercise of delimitation, fixing of seats and reservation of seats for TPs and ZPs.

In view of the recent directives of the Supreme Court on conducting elections to the local bodies, the SEC filed a memo to advance the hearing. Accordingly, the matter was heard and order was passed.

Senior Counsel KN Phanindra, representing SEC, drew the attention of the court on the directives issued by the SC recently to complete the election process and also the constitutional mandate on the commission in holding the elections.

Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadagi submitted that a commission has been constituted in compliance with the directions issued by the top court to recommend reservations for OBC in rural local bodies and hence 12 weeks time was required to complete the exercise of delimitation and providing reservation.

The petition was filed in December 2021, questioning the Karnataka Gram Swaraj and Panchayat Raj (Amendment) Act, 2021 which came into force from September 18, 2021, when SEC had almost completed preparations to conduct elections to TPs and ZPs across the state. The SEC had notified delimitation of constituencies on March 2021, determination of reservation of seats on April 30, 2021 and published the final voters list in June 2021.

Contending that the new law derailed the process already done and could not conduct the elections to TPs and ZPs, the SEC moved the Karnataka High Court questioning the new law in December 2021.

A 45-year-old construction labourer, accused of murdering his pregnant wife and their seven-year-old son in Washermenpet eight years ago, was arrested on Monday. The city police arrested the accused K Raju alias Danger from a village in Andhra Pradesh, based on a tip-off.

Actor abuse case: CPM sees red at timing of plea

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

A day after the survivor in the actor abduction and sexual assault case approached the Kerala High Court alleging interference from influential people to derail the investigation, the CPM trained guns at her alleging political intentions. Hours after CPM state secretary Kodiyeri Balakrishnan and LDF convenor EP Jayarajan alleged that the survivor's petition was aimed at helping the UDF in Thrikkakara bypolls, CM Pinarayi Vijayan was on damage control mode.

Attacking the survivor, Jayarajan said that it needs to be examined if there is any vested interest behind the petition since it was filed when the bypoll campaign in Thrikkakara Assembly constituency is at its peak. If any lapse is found on the part of police, action will be taken, said Jayarajan.

Balakrishnan said the timing of petition filed by the survivor raises suspicion about her intention. He alleged that the UDF is trying to garner political gains in Thrikkakara by-polls. The government stands with the survivor and has appointed a lawyer of her choice, he said.

Veteran CPM leader MM Mani told a news channel that the case is an infamous case. The government has noting to do as the case is under the consideration of the court, he said.

Opposition leader VD Satheesan said Jayarajan and other CPM leaders are adding to the trauma of the survivor by insulting her. The government has intervened to derail the probe in the case. The survivor alleged that the eighth accused Dileep has allegedly influenced some politicians of the ruling party to derail the probe.

CM promises justice

Assuring that the government will ensure justice to the survivor, Kerala CM Pinarayi Vijayan said the allegations of interference in probe were part of a misinformation campaign by the UDF, fearing defeat. "The verdict in Vismaya case underscores the relentless efforts of the LDF government in ensuring safety of women. The government had made strong interventions in the probe in the actor abuse case," he said.

On Tuesday, Kollam Additional Sessions Court Judge Sujith K N sentenced Kiran to 10 years in jail for offences under IPC sections 304(B) (dowry death), six years and Rs 2 lakh fine under 306 (abetment to suicide) and two years and Rs 50,000 fine under 498A (dowry harassment). "Fully satisfied with the court verdict as he has been awarded the maximum punishment under all charges," said Special Public Prosecutor G Mohanraj.

Kiran requested the court to consider his age and old parents as they don't have anybody else to look after them. I'm innocent in this case and have done nothing wrong," Kiran told the court.

"The convict is not a common man. He was a government employee. One who was bound to implement the law was the one who broke it," Mohanraj said.

Forest dept refuses NHAI land for road widening

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

WITH increasing number of elephant sightings reported on Kanakaura Road, and the road connecting Savandurga from Bannerghatta National Park (BNP), the forest department has told the National Highway Authority of India (NHAI) that no land will be given for widening, and alternate plans should be made for safety measures.

Forest staffers are of the opinion that road widening will lead to more conflict due to spike in traffic while construction of flyovers and bridges on roads cutting through forests is not a solution.

Bengaluru Urban Deputy Conservator of Forests, SS Ravishankar told TNIE they have been refusing to hand over the land to NHAI for two months. They have to also take care of Mysuru Road and Kanakapura Road, which was told to them during review meetings. Soon, a letter would also be sent to clarify the issue. The issue has gained prominence after a tusker was killed by a speeding BMTC bus on Kanakapura Road.

The forest department officials said that roads in contention are also a part of the elephant corridor and they need to be protected as per orders from various courts. Madhukar Wathore, NHAI, Regional Head, Bengaluru, said that he will look into the matter. Earlier, some projects have been put on hold due to complications arising due to contractors and finances. He also said there is no need to do anything on the roads connecting Nice Road and Kanakapura Road, and Nice Road and Mysuru Road.

20 barrels of red chilli sauce on truck

They noticed a red colour liquid spread across the road and it came to light that the leak was from a truck travelling to Kerala. The checkpost staff at Makutta (on Kodagu-Kerala border) were alerted and the vehicle was stopped. After searching the truck, the officials realised that the red liquid was chilli sauce extracted from Byadagi chilli.

The truck was loaded with over 20 barrels filled with Byadgi chilli sauce extracted at a factory in Davanagere. The barrels containing the sauce were to be transported to Ernakulam in Kerala and the driver took the route via Kodagu to reach Kerala. "Near Nellihudikeri, the truck went off the road to give space to a private bus to overtake during which some barrels were damaged causing the leakage," confirmed Ravikumar, Madikeri Rural Police Station SI.

"The truck driver was carrying all the required transport documents. However, as public inconvenience was caused, the truck has been seized. A case of public nuisance has been registered and an FIR has been lodged," confirmed Ravikumar.

₹2 lakh ex-gratia for kin of deceased: PM

Mangled remains of the bus which was cleared using heavy machinery. The accident held up traffic for over 1 hr on the bypass road | EXPRESS

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi announced an ex-gratia of Rs 2 lakh each from the Prime Minister's National Relief Fund (PMNRF) to the next of kin of those who lost their lives and Rs 50,000 each to the injured. In a tweet, the Prime Minister said, "Pained by the loss of lives due to a mishap in Hubballi. My thoughts are with the bereaved families. May the injured recover soon".

Emergency Response Support System (ERSS) staff visited the spot along with ambulances. All injured were admitted to KIMS Hospital.

KIMS Director Dr Ramalingappa Antartani said, "About 15 patients who suffered spinal cord, leg and other injuries have now been shifted to various hospitals in Kolhapur and Pune. This has been done against our medical advisory as some of the injured were not in a condition to move. However, other patients are being treated here at KIMS," he said.

After the accident, traffic movement on the bypass road was affected for more than an hour. Police cleared the mangled remains of the vehicles using heavy machinery. Additional Director General of Police (Road Safety) R Hitendra and Hubballi-Dharwad Police Commissioner Labhu Ram visited the spot.

Four days ago (May 21), nine people were killed in an accident near Bada village of Dharwad taluk when a speeding Tempo-Trax turned turtle after crashing into a tree. Seven people were killed on the spot and two had died in KIMS Hospital. Several people were injured.

Activists have been demanding that widening of the Hubballi-Dharwad bypass road should be taken up at the earliest as it is the only stretch on the entire National Highway-48 that has only two lanes.

The two-lane stretch has been causing frequent accidents.

BETTER TAX PLANNING NEEDED TO KEEP FUEL INFLATION IN CHECK

The Union government excise duty cuts have effectively reduced retail prices by ₹9.5 and ₹7, respectively, bringing welcome relief to the common man. Prices of LPG cylinders under the Ujjwala scheme have also been reduced by ₹200 a cylinder. These slew of measures will hopefully slow raging inflation. Retail inflation has touched an eight-year high of 7.79% in April and has been hovering above the Reserve Bank's upper-level target of 6%. Some Opposition-ruled states have also obliged with a welcome reduction in state taxes or VAT on petrol and diesel.

The price of fuel contributes as much as 4.7% to the inflation basket. If one calculates the cascading effect on transport and cost of manufacturing, the impact is probably higher. In this context, taxing gasoline as a revenue source must always be carefully balanced. However, the historical record shows successive governments have used this turbulent commodity as a cash cow to balance its deficits. Central excise and state-level tax or VAT even now accounts for 37% of the price on petrol, and 32% on diesel.

While the Ukraine war has pushed up international crude oil prices, it must be remembered that between 2014 and 2016, when crude oil prices plummeted from $106 a barrel to around $75, the Centre, instead of passing on the benefit to consumers, repeatedly raised the excise duty on petrol and diesel and made windfall profits. When the Union government now claims it has to forego over ₹1 lakh crore in revenue with the excise cuts, it must be remembered, in FY2022, tax collection from petrol and diesel stood at over ₹3 lakh crore, an 88% jump from the previous year. Even after the cuts, central excise duty still makes up ₹19.9 a litre on petrol, and ₹15.8 a litre on diesel. For comparison: When the BJP government took over in 2014, excise duty on petrol was just ₹9.48 per litre, and that on diesel ₹3.56 a litre. Increasing fuel prices have a galloping impact, and the government must thus strive to provide more relief on this front.

THE SORRY STATE OF ODISHA'S HEALTHCARE

Last Saturday, a holiday, the Orissa High Court held a special sitting to hear a PIL on healthcare in the state. A Division Bench of Chief Justice S Muralidhar and Justice R K Pattanaik took note of the inspection reports of district legal services authorities on government hospitals and healthcare centres. The Bench voiced serious concern over the state of affairs and directed the government to take immediate corrective measures. The court found that doctors on roll were absent in many places; availability of nurses and other staff was poor; ambulance service did not exist and stock register on drugs was not maintained. Bereft of basic facilities, the HC observed that even the minimum quality of medical care could not be provided to the poor.

For a state where the healthcare has always been bad, Odisha has not shown any marked improvement at all. That the state government has failed to deploy a sufficient number of doctors in even some of the most backward regions speaks volumes about its intent. There is a vacancy of 43% in general duty medical officers deployed in districts across Odisha. The vacancy among specialists is equally poor at 44%. There are eight government medical colleges and hospitals. Yet, patients from weaker economic backgrounds are forced to seek services in the private sector in the absence of basic amenities and diagnostic services.

The Naveen Patnaik government may have been bragging about a unique health assurance service under which the people from weaker sections can avail best medical care for free from top-of-the-line private hospitals across the country. But what about its own medical college and hospitals (MCHs)? The SCB Medical College and Hospital at Cuttack, the biggest and oldest state-run medical college, will be converted into an AIIMS-Plus institute, says the government. But the ground situation is pathetic with a crippling faculty shortage in many departments. What use are massive buildings if there are no specialists to take care of desperate patients? Sample this: There are over 50 vacancies in professor posts in the government MCHs alone. The HC observation must serve as an alarm for the 22-year-old BJD government and wake it out of its long slumber.

An endless civil strife between Hindus and Muslims is not good for the country. What, then, is the way out? Both sides should sit across a table to work out a compromise

GYANVAPI ROW: THE FUTURE OF THE PAST

SOUMYADIP SINHA

MAKARAND R PARANJAPE

RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE

After the discovery of what resembles a Shivalinga in the Gyanvapi well on the premises of a mosque by the same name in Varanasi, the nation has once again been thrown into legal and religious turmoil. This, as is inevitable, is always accompanied by social, cultural, and of course, in India's case, political overtones. How to make sense of this tangle, not necessarily from a Hindu, Muslim or secular—all of which, as I shall show, are sectarian points of view—but instead, from a perspective that benefits India and secures its future as a stable, viable, multi-religious republic?

First of all, let us examine the matter from the three positions outlined above, Hindu, Muslim and secular. Some Hindus, for instance, not only want to reclaim the Gyanvapi masjid for Hindus to worship. That would not, per se, be an unreasonable demand. But they want all 40,000 or so mosques allegedly built on the ruins of Hindu temples to be restored to Hindus, thus reversing the vandalism and cultural genocide of centuries of Muslim rule in India.

Hurt Hindu pride, which may be behind such a sentiment, is easily understood. We may even sympathise with it. But the fact remains that Hindus could not defend their places of worship in times past. Now, a democratically elected government, which rules as per the provisions of the Indian Constitution, must protect the interests of all citizens equally. Either the Constitution must be changed so that Hindu rights are placed above those of others or we must abide by both the letter and spirit of the law.

If we must take the latter course, how can these Hindus demand that the party in power, BJP, even if it is a Hindu majoritarian party, use the state machinery to turn thousands of mosques into temples? Would this be feasible, let alone legal or desirable? Instead, wouldn't such a move lead to a permanent civil war between feuding Hindus and Muslims, thus opening us up for interference and internal weakening by foreign powers in addition to the possibility of internal collapse?

Let us turn to the Muslims now. There is a major majlis (assembly) planned at the conservative seminary of Deoband where many stakeholders will congregate to take stock of matters. We shall have to wait and watch to see what pronouncements are made or policies framed. But one faction, as represented by Asaduddin Owaisi, has already gone on record to say that not a single masjid will be returned to the Hindus.

Those Muslims who think this way need to ask themselves the implications of such a statement, especially when the structure, as is obvious with the Gyanvapi Masjid, is built on a destroyed Hindu temple. Even the walls of the latter are intact for all to see to this date. Evidence from the time of Aurangzeb's demolition of the temple, including pictorial records by eminent Indologists such as James Prinsep, amply attest to this.

What is more, the looting, desecration and spoilage of Varanasi is as old as the invasions of Mahmud Ghazni. As Abu al-Fazl al-Bayhaqi records, Ghazni's Indian "governor", Ahmad Niyaltigin, looted the city in 1033 CE. "The markets of the drapers, perfumers and jewellers were plundered" from "morning to mid-day prayer". Since time was short, he says, "it was impossible to do more". Far from any regret over such marauding, there is a note of regret in the text that only so little plunder and sacking was possible. Therefore, when it comes to the Gyanvapi itself, that sacred site was likely to have been destroyed and rebuilt over and over again. What we see today is only its latest ruination and metamorphosis at the hands of Mughal emperor, Aurangzeb, in 1669.

> Hurt Hindu pride is easily understood. We may even sympathise with it. But the fact remains that Hindus could not defend their places of worship in times past. Now, a democratically elected government, which rules as per the provisions of the Indian Constitution, must protect the interests of all citizens equally

Therefore, for Muslims to imagine that whatever was demolished, conquered or rebuilt upon in the past should remain in their possession until eternity because that is enjoined in Muslim law is unreasonable. Non-Muslims, who have been victims of Islamic conquest, plunder and vandalism, cannot be expected to respect the very law that was the cause of their ruination.

Now let us turn to our secularists and champions of the rule of law. The Places of Worship Act, 1991, which asserts that "the character of a religious place cannot be altered from what it was on August 15, 1947", is only a relatively recent ordinance, from the point of view of a 5,000-year-old civilisation, enacted by the Indian Parliament. There is nothing in our Constitution to prevent it from being modified or even scrapped by the well-laid out procedure of the amendment of such laws. If proponents of secularism or constitutionalism cite the law, then they should abide by the law if or when it is modified. Instead, as with the Constitutional Amendment Act or Article 370, they will cry foul. How can they have it both ways—praise the law when it suits them, denounce it when it does not?

Let us now look at the issue from the perspective of what is good for India, that is Bharat. It should be clear that endless civil strife between Hindus and Muslims is not good for the country. What, then, is the way out? Both sides should sit across a table to work out a compromise. The compromise, as far as I am concerned, should be based on the return of at least those structures that are of paramount importance to the Hindus, including Kashi and Mathura. The former is associated with Shiva, the latter with Krisha, both of whom are major Hindu deities. This, in addition to Ayodhya, should be the bare minimum.

As to the rest of the mosques that are built on ruins of Hindu, Buddhist and Jain temples, there ought to be a national and international evidence-based acknowledgement of this historical truth. Signage by the Archaeological Survey of India or even by mosque authorities in case of a place of continuing worship should acknowledge this. No more denialism, rationalisation or plain falsehood in the name of appeasement or conciliation.

What is more, Hindus should be allowed to visit disputed premises when prayers are not being offered by Muslims. Even better, as in the present case of the Gyanvapi, both communities can offer worship at disputed shrines. This would send a far-reaching signal of Hindu-Muslim friendship to the whole world. Are we ready for such a rapprochement? Why not be hopeful—where there is a will, there is a way.

ONLINE GAMING WILL BENEFIT FROM ROBUST REGULATION

MANAVENDRA PRASAD

The writer is a policy analyst

The ubiquity of technology has led to numerous new avenues of business—e-commerce, entertainment, education, communication, etc. This has called for the management of the respective sectors and the need for their regulation has been felt. One less noticed sector is the area of online gaming, which received a massive boost during the pandemic. As per a report published by consulting firm KPMG, more than 43 crore Indians have spent time on gaming. To appreciate this better, it is important to understand what online gaming is.

There are essentially three types of online gaming—fantasy sports, esports and online casual games. Fantasy games allow users to create a team consisting of players from real sports teams (for example, the IPL or NBA) and then win points according to how they perform in the real tournament. E-sports are video games of yesteryears now played online in an organised fashion. They have tournaments for professional players, individually or as teams. Online casual games are either a game of chance where the end result is strongly determined by random activity such as rolling the dice (and if money is involved, it is considered gambling), or a game of skill that requires physical and mental strategies to win.

This new-age industry suffers from a complex regulatory muddle. Given the pan-India operations and reach, a central regulation could take things forward. But there is no clarity on who should regulate it—while the IT ministry is responsible for the information technology system, the Act governing the sports ministry did not envision electronic gaming. And the IT ministry limits itself to the content, leaving the online gaming industry with no clear nodal ministry.

Here is the fundamental issue confronting the online gaming industry—whether it is a game of skill or a game of chance. From this issue arises the legitimacy of online gaming. While games of skill are allowed in most parts of the country, games of chance are considered gambling and hence deemed unethical and illicit. As betting and gambling is a state subject as per the Constitution, some states have placed restrictions on games of skill as well.

There have been numerous cases filed by groups and organisations to classify their offering as a game of skill and get legal status. There have been many public interest litigations questioning the legality of online games, especially fantasy platforms. In August 2021, a Madras High Court verdict (Junglee Games India Pvt. Ltd. v. State of Tamil Nadu) struck down a TN government law that put a blanket ban on all forms of online gaming, including games of skill.

But there is another issue that surrounds online gaming—IP rights including image rights violation, and using players' names and team logos on their platforms. Globally too there is no clarity over the regulatory authorities. However, countries like Russia, China, Turkey and the Philippines recognise esports as a real sport. Even the International Olympic Committee has tested the potential for esports through exhibition games.

> This industry's regulatory muddle needs a comprehensive makeover. It was hoped that announcements in the Union Budget would accelerate the movement down this path but it was not to be ... Online gaming businesses will benefit from proper regulations as they will augment investment and revenue

This industry's regulatory muddle needs a comprehensive makeover. It was hoped that announcements in the Union Budget would accelerate the movement down this path but it was not to be.

And there are benefits from good management and efficient regulation—according to the KPMG report cited above, the online gaming industry is expected to have 66 crore users by FY 2025, leading to thousands of new jobs and a revenue generation of ₹29,000 crore. The sector will also attract a higher Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) and the experience of the gaming industry points to that. Online gaming businesses will benefit from proper regulations as they will augment investment and revenue. The sector will also be able to attract talent and potential professional players will also profit from it.

Regulations will also curb illegal activities that have created a black market, supplemented by the use of virtual currencies. Since there are no rules, players also indulge in match-fixing and there is also the problem of underage gambling. Importantly, the mental health of players will be addressed and exploitation can be prevented.

In addition to the dramatically increased screen time, there is the risk of adverse impact on our people, especially the youth. There are increasing indications of young people becoming compulsive gamers. Addiction of any kind can be destructive for the individual and society. A regulator can be expected to address such societal issues too.

The current wide disparity in rules and regulations poses a huge compliance burden for the companies. The ambiguity results in users having varied rights and remedies against the platforms. Without clear guidelines as to what constitutes a game of skill or a game of chance, innovation in the field is stifled.

The disparity in regulations poses a compliance burden for the gaming companies. This ambiguity can lead to users having varied rights. Indian gaming severely requires a robust regulatory revamp. It will be appropriate for the Central government to step in to create an omnibus regulatory framework for the industry.

This is with reference to Contextualising history—Right & Left (May 24). It is a well-known fact that history is always written by the victors. Naturally, the vanquished would always be looked down upon. The British would write only coloured stories about their predecessors to justify their own acts. In a democracy too, the same thing happens as is happening in India now. There is nothing unusual in it. Russia would never accept that they attacked Ukraine unjustly when they write history later on. Ukraine would write the other way round. So we should read history with caution.

Implementing helmet rule

Every time there is news of some bike rider dying of head injuries due to not wearing a helmet, the Chennai traffic police wake up from their slumber and shout from the rooftops about their decision to implement the helmet rule. Helmet wearing was made mandatory long ago, but the rule was respected more in its breach than observance. If past experience is any guide, the police will go back to their inertia in a while. In fact, I have lost count of the number of times when officials announced strict implementation with immediate effect.

Quad giving boost to open Indo-Pacific: PM

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

A steadfast commitment to a free and open Indo Pacific that is inclusive and resilient was the common ground on which Tokyo on Tuesday hosted the fourth Quad Summit. The attendees were Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Japanese Prime Minister Fumio Kishida, US President Joe Biden and Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese.

"Our mutual trust and determination is giving new energy and enthusiasm to the democratic forces. The mutual cooperation at the Quad level is giving a boost to a free, open and inclusive Indo-Pacific region, which is the common objective of all of us," said Prime Minister Narendra Modi, during the summit.

The summit supported the principles of freedom, rule of law, democratic values, sovereignty, territorial integrity and stability in the Indo Pacific region and the world. Today was the second in-person Quad Summit and the fourth overall.

"In our first year of cooperation, we established Quad's dedication to a positive and practical agenda. In our second year, we are committed to deliver on this promise, making the region more resilient for the 21st century," said President Biden. The Quad would reaffirm the resolve to uphold the international rules-based order where countries are free from all forms of military, economic and political coercion, said Biden.

The Ukraine conflict came up for discussion during the summit. "The Russian invasion of Ukraine squarely challenges the principles which are enshrined in the United Nations charter. We should never, ever allow a similar incident to happen in the Indo-Pacific," said PM Kishida.

The Japanese PM urged that it was pertinent to listen carefully to the voices of countries in the ASEAN, South Asia, as well as the Pacific Island countries to further advance cooperation conducive to solving urgent issues facing the region.

Quad leaders reiterated their resolve to maintain peace and stability in the region. "Today, we look ahead to the work we're yet to do. As the Indo-Pacific is reshaped, our Quad partnership needs to meet the challenges and threats of a less certain world; to shape the world for the better; and build a stronger, more cooperative Indo-Pacific region that respects sovereignty," said Australia's new Prime Minister Albanese.

The next Quad Summit will be hosted by Australia in 2023.

Our mutual trust, determination, is giving new energy and enthusiasm to the democratic forces. Our mutual cooperation is promoting a free, open and inclusive Indo-Pacific region

DEFEXPO 2022 TO TAKE PLACE IN GUJARAT

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Defence is likely to hold the biennial defence exhibition — DefExpo 2022 — at Gandhinagar in October for which invites are likely to be sent out in the first week of June.

Though the event was originally planned to be held in March, the Russia-Ukraine war had made it difficult for a large number of foreign participants to arrive with their equipment in India.

Sources said with reopening of flight routes and resumption of normal traffic, the Ministry is likely to announce new dates and send out invites for the five-day exhibition. They added close to a thousand companies, including the world's biggest defence manufacturers, are likely to take part in the event.

The expo will be inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who is likely to spend a couple of days in the capital city of his home state Gujarat and meet the chiefs of top defence companies.

If the plan falls in place this time, Gujarat sky will be buzzing with choppers and transport planes on the eve of the state assembly elections with hundreds of foreign participants bringing in their wares including helicopters, missiles, radars, tanks, armoured vehicles, heavy artillery for display at the marquee event.

The Ministry has had a fixed format for the event. Apart from the global and local defence companies hawking their wares, seminars are held through the day on technology transfer and indigenisation, business and investment meetings are facilitated, and Indian states vie with each other to attract investments that the big sellers are required to make under the offset policy.

The Ministry, meanwhile, has decided to launch a new initiative at DefExpo 2022 called Invest4iDex to promote innovations for defence excellence. This programme will be managed by an MoD wing called the Defence Innovation Organisation (DIO). The Invest4iDex initiative will provide a platform to startups to pitch their ideas to venture capitalists and other investors and get their feedback. The idea is to help startups leverage DefExpo 2022 to generate investments and leads for future operations.

The growing hostility between the United States and Russia may cause friction over participation of Russian defence companies. India has so far managed to walk the middle path.

DefExpo 2022 would test South Block's diplomatic skills as it would have to balance the demands of the two big global players.

India downplays Chinese, Russian bombers near Japan airspace

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EVEN as Chinese and Russian bombers flew near Japan's airspace, India sought to play down the perceived provocative action with Foreign Secretary Vinay Mohan Kwatra giving greater weightage to PM Narendra Modi's crucial visit to Tokyo.

While Japanese Defence Minister Nobuo Kishi had expressed "grave concerns" over the Russian and Chinese flights at a time his country is hosting the Quad meeting, Tokyo scrambled fighter jets to meet any potential contingency.

In contrast, the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) remained focused on Modi's visit, including the developments on the Quad Summit front, with Kwatra making a statement on the common aims and objectives among the bloc's member states, ranging from shared aims of achieving peace, stability and prosperity in the region and ending all forms of terrorism.

Kwatra's briefing highlighted the other goals and cooperative endeavours among the Quad nations on the economic and commercial fronts. The Foreign Secretary chose to not delve deep into the perceived provocative joint Chinese and Russian flights, saying only that "the discussion agenda (among the Quad leaders) did include the challenges and opportunities and opportunities in the Indo-Pacific region, but specific action may have formed part of the bilateral talks".

Prime Minister Modi held bilateral talks with US President Joe Biden, Japanese Premier Fumio Kishida and Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese, Kwatra said. "The leaders did discuss what could be the way forward," he added. Both Modi and Kishida are said to have concurred on holding the next "2+2 foreign and defence ministerial" meeting in Japan at the earliest.

In Tokyo, Kishi told reporters that two Chinese bombers joined two Russian bombers over the Sea of Japan and made a joint flight to the East China Sea. This, Kishi said, was followed soon after by two new Chinese bombers joining the earlier ones as well as the Russian planes by a "joint flight from the East China Sea to the Pacific Ocean", Kishi said.

The Japanese political leadership believes that a Russian intelligence gathering aircraft also flew off northern Hokkaido to the Noto Peninsula in central Japan, describing the flights as "provocative" considering the Quad leaders were meeting in Tokyo.

ANOTHER GLOBAL SCARE?

According to the WHO, there have been 131 confirmed monkeypox cases and 106 further suspected cases since the first case was reported on May 7.

MAY 13 – MAY 21
Australia, Belgium, Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, the UK and the US.

MAY 22 – MAY 23
Austria, Denmark, Israel, Scotland and Switzerland

When was the infection first identified?

Monkeypox was first identified in humans in 1970 in the Democratic Republic of the Congo. It is called monkeypox because it was first identified in colonies of monkeys and kept for research in 1958. The virus is most common in remote parts of Central and West Africa.

Why the world is on tenterhooks?

Panic buttons were pressed as cases were reported from non-endemic countries; one case is considered an outbreak. The most recent surge in cases, according to WHO, in Europe appears to have been spread among men who have sex with other men. But it is not a sexually transmitted disease. Two rave parties in Spain and Belgium have likely to have led to the outbreak, according to a leading adviser to the WHO, Dr David Heymann, who earlier headed WHO's the emergency department.

What are the symptoms?

Fever, intense headache, muscle aches, back pain, low energy, swollen lymph nodes, rash or lesions. It can be transmitted through contact with bodily fluids, lesions on the skin or internal mucosal surfaces, such as in the mouth or throat, respiratory droplets and contaminated objects.

How can it be treated?

Vaccines used during the smallpox eradication programme are also protected from monkey pox. The infection is usually a self-limited disease with symptoms lasting 2 to 4 weeks. Severe cases can occur. In recent times, the case fatality ratio has been around 3–6 per cent.

Old wine, new bottle: Cong seniors to handle strategy for 2024 polls

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Tuesday announced a new political affairs group and a Task Force to get the party battle-ready for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, but the list neither had new faces nor younger leaders barring one name — political strategist Sunil Kanugolu.

To placate the anger of senior leaders pushing for complete organisational overhaul, the group does include G-23 leaders Ghulam Nabi Azad and Anand Sharma. General secretary incharge Uttar Pradesh Priyanka Gandhi Vadra is now officially assigned with national responsibility as a member of Task Force 2024. Former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi is part of the political affairs group under Sonia Gandhi.

In its first meeting on Tuesday, the task force agreed to meet at regular intervals to discuss strategy on key issues. Each member of shall be assigned specific tasks related to organisation, communications and media outreach, finance and election management.

Interestingly, both the key groups have old hands like Mallikarjun Kharge, Ambika Soni, Jairam Ramesh, Ajay Maken, Mukul Wasnik, P Chidambaram, Digvijay Singh and KC Venugopal. These leaders are already part of several existing committees for planning and strategy.

But it turned out to be a disappointment for some leaders, who had expected that the party would go with the Chintan Shivir agreement to have half of its leaders in organisations under the age of 50. Kanugolu (below 40 years) is the lone young leader in the two groups.

However, a third group for planning 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' have some young leaders like Sachin pilot, Jothi Mani and Ravneet Singh Bittu among others. The task force has been mandated to look at the various elections in the run up to the 2024 Parliamentary elections and various grassroot programs as also how to reach to the last person in the line, as also to common people, both in cities as also in the villages.

BJP woos Muslim faces from backward castes

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

BUOYED by the recent growth in votes from the backward castes of Muslims in Uttar Pradesh, the BJP is said to have chalked out a pan-India strategy to woo the "prominent, influential and young new faces" from these sections in every state in the run up to the next general elections.

Plans are afoot to highlight the benefits of welfare schemes launched for these segments of OBCs by the union as well as BJP states in order to engage them in the party affairs at the local level.

The BJP's think tank believes that the schemes like the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojna, the Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojna, free ration, the Ujjawala Yojna and others have hugely benefited the backward castes of Muslim.

A party insider said that the Uttar Pradesh poll results made the party confident that the voters from backward castes of the Muslim community had reposed trust in the leadership of PM Narendra Modi and the welfare schemes started by the BJP governments.

"We will now bring prominent and influential people and young faces of backward Muslim to the forefront in the party assigning them responsibility at local level and in governance also," said a senior BJP leader.

Citing some recent moves in promoting Muslim leaders within the party in states like Uttar Pradesh and others, the BJP source said that Danish Azad Ansari, who belongs to backward caste of Muslim was made a minister in the Yogi Adityanath government as part of the party's new strategy.

Govt to watch foreign arrivals for monkeypox

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Covid-19 is far from over, but now the world faces a new threat — an outbreak of monkeypox, which has spread to 17 countries, mainly those in Europe. Though India has not reported any case, authorities have sounded an alert.

The Union Health Ministry has asked the National Institute of Virology (NIV) and the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) to closely watch and test suspected samples of people travelling from affected countries.

Monkeypox is a rare disease caused by a virus in the same family as smallpox but is not as severe, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

According to Dr Pragya Yadav, a noted scientist from the ICMR-NIV, recently awarded for her contribution to developing the Covid-19 vaccine, India has issued an early advisory on Friday. Active surveillance has been mounted at ports and airports.

As the virus has spread to 17 countries on Tuesday, travellers from these affected countries are especially being checked. So far, no samples have been received by NIV, Yadav said.

On May 23, the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) had issued a health advisory and stated that it has kept a separate 28-bed ward ready at the Kasturba Hospital for the isolation of suspected patients.

Those arriving from abroad will have to give samples for testing at the National Institute of Virology's Pune laboratory," the Maharashtra health department had said in an advisory.

Medics on NMC register must have 'Med Dr' prefix; draft rules

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE Ethics and Medical Registration Board (EMRB) on May 23 released the draft of National Medical Commission Registered Medical Practitioner (Professional Conduct) Regulations, 2022, to address a wide range of issues of registered medical practitioners (RMPs). The Board has elicited views and comments from stakeholders, the last date for which is June 22.

The NMC regulates medical education and medical professionals in India. It replaced the Medical Council of India (MCI) on September 25, 2020.

An RMP is a person whose name is either in the State Medical Register or Indian Medical Register or National Medical Register.

Apart from explaining the code of conduct of RMPs, one of the most significant changes proposed by the Council is the addition of 'Med Dr' as prefix to those RMPs who are registered under the NMC Act, 2019, as practitioners of modern medicine or Allopathy alone. There is also a caveat for doctors who have studied medicine overseas and practice in India. "RMPs qualified abroad and seeking registration to practice after clearing Foreign Medical Graduate Examination (FMGE)/National Exit Test (NEXT) must use NMC-approved equivalent medical prefixes and suffixes to provide clarity to patients and the public. An RMP shall not claim to be a clinical specialist unless he/she has NMC recognised training and qualification in that specific branch of modern medicine," the Council has stated.

"We have received a number of complaints about doctors who practice more than one stream of medicine. Under the new guidelines, all RMPs registered with NMC or State Medical Council (SMC) should add 'Med Dr' as prefix to their names to show that they only practice modern medicine or Allopathy," said Dr Yogender Malik, member, EMRB. He added that the NMC draft regulations succeed the guidelines made by the MCI in 2002. "This is a draft in public domain for one month for all stakeholders such as doctors, patient groups, experts and various associations and organisations to give their feedback," said Malik.

The proposed regulations address a wide range of issues of RMPs; from registration to professional duties, responsibilities towards their patients and healthcare professionals, remuneration, prescription of generic medicines as against branded drugs, prohibition on commission, self-promotion and advertisement, issuance of medical reports and the issue of professional misconduct. While an RMP can refuse to continue to treat a patient if the fees, as indicated (by him/her earlier) are not paid (not applicable to doctors in government service or emergencies), the doctor cannot abandon the patient.

The NMC has warned of strict action against any violation of rules. "Conviction of RMPs in cases of cognisable offence involving moral turpitude may result in suspension of licence to practice," the Council has cautioned.

The issue of telemedicine is explained in great detail in the draft rules. A lot of emphasis has also been placed upon continuous professional development (CPD) and the linkage of CPD points of RMPs to renewal of licence by the EMRB or SMC.

CPD has replaced Continuing Medical Education or CME, which consisted of educational activities which served to maintain and enhance professional performance of a physician.

There are, however, some hiccups in the draft rules, which while explaining the importance of patient consent in treatment have included the consent of a couple on the issue of sterilisation. "In the case of operative procedures which may result in permanent sterilisation, it is prudent to take informed consent from both the patient and spouse, unless denial of consent could put the life of patients in danger." The inclusion of husband's consent in such cases may threaten to legitimise the loss of a woman's right over her reproductive health.

Hindu women plaintiffs arrive for the hearing of Gyanvapi Masjid-Shringar Gauri Temple case in Varanasi on Tuesday | PTI

Gyanvapi: Court to hear Muslim plea tomorrow

Party challenged maintainability of petition, seeks right to worship

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Varanasi District and Sessions Court, on Tuesday, decided to hear the maintainability of the Shringar Gauri-Gyanvapi case on priority, posting the matter for hearing on May 26. The petition which the court would hear next was filed under Order VII Rule 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure (CPC) by the Muslim party challenging the maintainability of the suit filed by five women, including Rakhi Singh Vs UP State seeking daily worship of Goddess Shringar Gauri located on the premises of Gyanvapi mosque.

Meanwhile, the court also allowed both parties — Hindu and Muslim (represented by Anjuman Intezamia Masajid) — to file objections to the court commission's survey report on the mosque. "The former presiding officer, Civil Judge, Varanasi, while passing the order had invited objections from the parties on the commissioner's report. The said order is currently in effect. Therefore, the parties can submit objections to the commission report within seven days," said the order passed by District and Sessions Judge Dr AK Vishvesha.

However, during the hearing in the district court on Monday, the Hindu parties had submitted that the objections to the report of survey conducted by court-appointed advocate commissioner on the premises of the mosque, saying the report should be taken into account by the court before deciding the maintainability plea.

In fact, the Hindu side had filed a civil suit seeking the right to daily worship of Shringar Gauri on the premises on the ground that it was a Hindu temple and still houses Hindu deities.

The Muslim parties had challenged maintainability of the suit on ground that the Places of Worship Act of 1991 protected the status of all religious structures as they stood on August 15, 1947. Section 4 of the Act states that the religious character of a place of worship existing on August 15, 1947 shall continue to be the same as it existed on that day. It bars courts from entertaining cases regarding such places of worship. The provision further states that such cases already pending in courts would stand abated.

Earlier, Varanasi Civil Court (Senior Division) had ordered a survey of the Gyanvapi mosque by an advocate commissioner appointed by it.

'Don't believe in boys making mistakes': Yogi's jibe to Akhilesh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

REITERATING his government's policy of 'zero tolerance' towards criminals, Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath, on Tuesday, reminded the Samajwadi Party of the statement once given by party patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav with reference to a rape case, and said that in the present dispensation "boys are not allowed to make mistakes."

Yogi was responding to Leader of Opposition Akhilesh Yadav's onslaught over the crime situation in UP. Amid sharp exchanges between the two leaders, Yogi said, "Whoever is the culprit and whatever is the type of crime, it is unforgivable in the eyes of the government." He added mockingly, "The BJP-led government does not believe in the philosophy that 'boys often commit mistakes'.

Back in 2014, Mulayam referred to a rape case in Mumbai, saying, "It is natural for boys to err at times and it is wrong to give them the death penalty." Akhilesh had criticised the government over the incidents in Chandauli, Lalitpur and Prayagraj.

Yogi responded by saying that the law and order situation of Uttar Pradesh is an example in itself now.

"Between 2012 and 2017, Uttar Pradesh witnessed over 700 communal riots. Curfew was imposed in Muzaffarnagar, Lucknow and Bareilly for months," he said, pointing out that since 2017, there had not been a single communal flare-up.

Caste census: Bihar all-party meeting reset for June 1

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

AN all-party meeting on caste-based census in Bihar has been rescheduled for June 1. Earlier, it was decided by the parties to convene a meeting on the issue on May 27.

According to authoritative sources in the chief minister's office, the meeting will be held at Samvad at 4 pm. The leaders of all political parties have been invited to the meeting to share their views on the issue.

Deputy chief minister and Bharatiya Janata Party leader Tarkishore Prasad said that the Bharatiya Janata Party would participate in the all-party meet scheduled for June 1. "The BJP leadership will decide the name of the party's representative for the meeting," he added.

The all-party meeting will be followed by cabinet approval on the proposal to hold caste-based census in the state from its own resources. The demand for caste-based census has been pending for long. Earlier, the proposal was passed by the state legislature twice.

On Monday, Chief Minister Nitish Kumar had said that a final decision on the date of the all-party meeting would be announced after consultation with leaders of political parties. However, most of the leaders had earlier agreed on May 27.

Sources said the meeting has been rescheduled due to nominations for the Rajya Sabha, which started on Tuesday. The last date of nomination is May 31 and scrutiny of papers will be done on June 1.

Elections for 57 Rajya Sabha seats will be held on June 10.The leader of opposition, Tejashwi Prasad Yadav, had earlier met Nitish and held a closed door meeting on the issue of caste-based census in the state. meeting on the issue.

BJP MLA ENTERS MADARSA ROW

PATNA: The echo of the madarsa row has reached Bihar from Assam. After Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma's remarks against the institutions, Bihar BJP MLA Hari Bhushan Thakur on Tuesday said that madarsas should be closed as they "promote terrorism". His comment evoked sharp reaction from the Opposition, with RJD spokesperson Mrityunjay Tiwari accusing BJP of making statements which were harmful for the country's integrity. Congress spokesperson Rajesh Rathod said, "Some people raise question marks on madarsas while others call Saraswati Shishu Vidya Mandirs as places of hooliganism. Both educate children and so nobody should make a statement that can incite passions." Thakur also invited criticism from its ally, J-DU. Neeraj Kumar, JD-U MLC, said, "Madarsas are the centres of learning. The Bihar government has done a lot for the welfare of children studying in madarsas."

Naresh Patel likely to announce foray today

Will there be an end to the months of speculation over Patidar leader Naresh Patel's plunge into politics? We may get the answer to this on Wednesday, when Naresh Patel is scheduled to make a press announcement. There are indications that it will be clear on the day whether Naresh Patel will enter active politics. Naresh Patel himself is keen on it as he has started a survey to know the opinion of people from all communities as to whether he should get involved in politics or not and at the end of the survey he will announce his decision. After his remarks three months ago, he was invited by BJP, Congress, and AAP to join them. Leaders of all the parties in Rajkot had closed-door meetings with Naresh Patel.

The planning in this regard has been worked out and has also been officially approved by the speaker of the legislative assembly. According to officials, 182 students will be called as MLAs. Out of them, one each will take the role of the chief minister, the leader of opposition, the speaker and the remaining 179 students will perform as MLAs. The programme is being organised for class XI and XII students.

BJP aims to raise ₹200 crore ahead of polls

Gujarat BJP has decided to collect Chuntani Sahyog Nidhi (election assistance fund) from party workers and well-wishers, and hopes to collect at least `200 crore through the initiative. The decision was taken at a one-day meeting of the state executive at the party headquarters in Gandhinagar. The meeting was held under the aegis of state party chief C R Patil. To maintain transparency, donations to the party will be accepted only through cheques, said state BJP general secretary Rajni Patel. During the 2017 assembly elections, the BJP's national office collected a total of `163.70 crore for the state elections, while the state unit collected a total of `88.5 crore for a total of `253 crore.

Whistleblower's dramatic complaint

About a month ago, Rajinder Singh, Superintending Engineer in Punjab Health Systems Corporation, was called by Pardeep Kumar, OSD to Singla (pic), to room number 203 of Punjab Bhavan

Singla was in a hurry to leave, but told the officer to fully trust Kumar. "Whatever Kumar says is what I intend to say," he assured and left

Kumar mentioned allotments of construction works worth ₹41 crore and a separate ₹17 crore already paid to contractors in March

2% of the total ₹58 crore or ₹1.16 crore should be paid as bribe, they said

THE OFFICER REFUSED AND REQUESTED THAT HE BE SENT BACK TO HIS PARENT DEPARTMENT. HE IS DUE TO RETIRE ON NOVEMBER 30

PUNJAB CM MANN SACKS MINISTER OVER CORRUPTION

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

GIVING a dramatic push to probity in public life, Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on Tuesday sacked his health minister Dr Vijay Singla and got him arrested for seeking cut money for awarding government contracts and clearing payments.

Singla was later produced before a local court, which remanded him in three-day police custody. For his part, Singla said, "It is conspiracy to defame the AAP and Bhagwant Mann government."

Both Singla and his Officer on Special Duty (OSD) Pardeep Kumar were booked by the police under the Prevention of Corruption Act based on a complaint from Rajinder Singh, Superintending Engineer in the Punjab Health Systems Corporation.

The FIR said Singla's OSD Kumar had demanded that the officer fetch 2% commission for a construction contract worth ₹41 crore the minister had already cleared and for a separate payment of ₹17 crore made to contractors in March. Since the total amount involved was ₹58 crore, 2% works out to ₹1.16 crore.

When Rajinder Singh brought the harassment to Mann's notice, he was asked to gather proof. The officer then taped a meeting he had with Singla and Kumar, where they reiterated their demand for bribe and said the cut money should be paid to his nephew. The officer handed over the explosive tape to the Chief Minister's Office.

Mann is learnt to have then confronted the minister with the recording and asked if the voice on the tape was his. Singla reportedly replied in the affirmative and was sacked. He is a first-time MLA and minister, as are most ministers in the Punjab ministry.

Mann put out a video message making the announcement. "We found substantial proof of his corruption. I do not care if the opposition wants to use this to hit out at us," he nonchalently claimed.

Mann also sought to take the high moral ground saying this is the second time in the country's history that a minister has been sacked by his own party for graft. The first one, he added, was in 2015 when AAP founder and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal chucked his own food supplies minister Asim Ahmed Khan on charges of corruption and handed him over to the CBI for questioning.

Kejriwal, of course, was suitably impressed. "Your action has brought tears to my eyes," he told Mann. But the Opposition mocked Kejriwal for claiming earlier that corruption had been completely eradicated in Punjab within just 10 days of the Mann government in the saddle.

Quid pro quo? SP may offer RS seat to Sibal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

RLD chief Jayant Chaudhury and Congress leader Kapil Sibal may emerge as the members fielded by Samajwadi Party to Rajya Sabha. While the process of filing nomination took off on Tuesday, the parties are still finalising their candidates. Of the 57 seats going to polls on June 10, Uttar Pradesh will send 11 members to the upper house.

The Bharatiya Janata Party and SP are sure to win at least seven and three seats, respectively. However, for 11th seat, there could be a contest as the BJP, with 273 members in Assembly, is short of 15 votes while SP, with 125 MLAs, would need 20 more votes to win an added seat. So, this may bring second preference vote into play, as each member will need 36.63 votes to get elected.

As per sources, of the three seats which SP is sure to win, one each may be given to Chaudhury and Sibal. The 11 seats are currently represented by BJP (5), SP (3), BSP (2) and Congress (1).

If Chaudhury makes it to RS, he will return to Parliament after eight years as he was Mathura MP from 2009-2014. Sibal, who is completing his RS term in July, was then elected with SP's support. He also represented Azam Khan in Supreme Court and helped him secure interim bail, and helped Akhilesh retain the party's bicycle symbol in 2017 after a Yadav family feud. The SP now seems to be seeking to reciprocate for his help.

However, no official word is out yet. "The party has not decided on the candidates," national secretary Rajendra Chaudhary said.

RS POLLS: CONG, BJP LIKELY TO CORRAL MLAS FOR FOURTH SEAT

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

NOMINATIONS for four Rajya Sabha seats in Rajasthan began on Tuesday. In the polls due June 10, the ruling Congress is set to clinch two seats while the BJP will get one as per the party strength in the assembly. However, suspense continues over who will win the fourth seat.

Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot met a dozen independent MLAs to ensure their support for the Congress for the fourth seat. Both mainstream parties are preparing to lock up their MLAs in local resorts as the fourth seat could see a close contest.

The Congress will field its candidates for three seats. The BJP is trying to find out the possibility of winning a second seat given the tussle between Gehlot and his former Deputy CM Sachin Pilot. On the pretext of explaining the process of Rajya Sabha elections, the two parties are preparing to keep their MLAs "captive" in resorts close to Jaipur.

Currently, the Congress needs 82 votes to win two seats. However, as Congress has 108 MLAs, it will still have 26 votes left for the third seat though it is going to have a shortfall of 15 votes to win it. It is looking for support from 13 Independent MLAs and one of the Rashtriya Lok Dal.

Distribution of seats

As per sources, of the three seats which Samajwadi Party is sure to win, one each may be given to Chaudhury and Sibal. The 11 seats are currently represented by BJP (5), SP (3), BSP (2) and Congress (1).

Shiv Sena to field hardcore loyalist for RS

Mumbai: After fizzling out the deal with Sambhaji Maharaj, Shiv Sena has decided to field its hard core Shiv Sainik Sanjay Pawar from Kolhapur for their second Rajya Sabha seat. Pawar was a part of Shiv Sena from the last 30 years. He said that he has been working with the party without expecting any post. "If I am fielded in Rajya Sabha, it will be my honour and my work and loyalty in Sena will pay off. I will be grateful to Maharashtra chief minister Uddhav Thackeray," said Pawar. He had been Sena's Kolhapur district president for last several years. Pawar's name will be announced on Wednesday.

COP KILLED, DAUGHTER HURT IN TARGET ATTACK

Srinagar: In yet another targeted killing, militants on Tuesday shot dead a policeman and injured his 9-year-old daughter outside their house at Soura area in Srinagar, Jammu and Kashmir. Police sources said that militants fired bullets on Saifullah Qadri outside his house at Ganai Mohalla, Anchar in Soura when he was leaving home to drop his daughter for tuition. In the attack, the policeman sustained critical gunshot wounds while his daughter got injured in arms. Both were taken to a nearby hospital, where the injured policeman succumbed to injuries. Immediately after the attack, the police rushed to the spot and launched a search operation to track down the militants responsible for the attack.

Union Ministers to visit J&K to attend outreach programme by month-end

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AS a part of central government's outreach programme, at least 70 Union ministers will visit Jammu and Kashmir by the end of May. It will be the third outreach programme since the scrapping of Articles 370 and 35A in 2019.

Sources said the ministers would be visiting all the 20 districts of the state in a phased manner to assess the developmental works from the last three years and get the feedback of the public.

The list of ministers to visit the state includes Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman and Road Transport and Highways Minister Nitin Gadkari. The programme started after the abrogation J&K's special status by the Centre in 2019.

In 2020, 36 Union ministers visited the state while last year 70 Union ministers visited the Union Territory to get information of the security and development situation of the region.

The visit holds importance as within a few months, Assembly polls are going to take place in the state, which is likely to be held in October-November. The state is under central rule since the fall of PDP-BJP coalition government in June 2018. The ministers during their interaction would give an idea about the funds spent on development works post Article 370 revocation. They would also interact with DDC chairmen, DDC members, mayors and municipal councilors and panchayat members and review work on Centrally Sponsored Schemes and other development projects in J&K.

It's you, your system and Putin who are traitors against the Russian people. I am ready to sit in jail to prove that not everyone in Russia is like this – Alexei Navalny

Kremlin critic Navalny loses appeal against nine-year jail sentence

MOSCOW

JAILED Kremlin critic Alexei Navalny on Tuesday lost his legal appeal against a nine-year prison sentence that he and his allies condemn as politically motivated.

His sentencing came as Moscow pushes on with its military offensive in neighbouring Ukraine and Russian authorities seek to silence remaining government critics.

A Moscow court ruled to "leave the sentence without changes" and for it to enter into force immediately, meaning that the leader of Russia's embattled opposition will be transferred to a strict-regime penal colony with harsh conditions, including few family visits.

President Vladimir Putin's arch-critic appeared before the court via video-link from behind bars at his prison colony outside Moscow.

Wearing a black prisoner uniform, the 45-year-old looked grim and listened attentively, leaning against his bars, as the judge read out his sentence.

During the hearing, he dismissed his trial as "meaningless", saying: "I despise your court, your system."

"It's you, your system and Putin who are traitors against the Russian people", said Navalny. "I am ready to sit in jail to prove that not everyone in Russia is like this." Navalny used his final words to condemn the Kremlin and its military campaign in Ukraine. "What Putin is doing is pointless," he said. "One crazy thief has seized hold of Ukraine, and no one understands what he wants to do with it".

"Your time will pass and you will burn in hell," he concluded his speech. In late March, Navalny had his jail time extended to nine years after he was found guilty of embezzling donations to his political organisations and contempt of court. AFP

War in Ukraine enters fourth month, Russia intensifies Donbas offensive

Moscow carried out 1,500 missile strikes so far, coming weeks will be difficult, says Zelenskyy

KYIV

Russian forces on Tuesday stepped up their offensive on the last pocket of resistance around Lugansk in Ukraine's eastern Donbas region, as the conflict entered its fourth month. Since Moscow's invasion in late February, Western support has helped Ukraine hold off its neighbour's advances in many areas, including the capital Kyiv. Russia is now focused on securing and expanding its gains in Donbas and the southern coast.

"The coming weeks of the war will be difficult, and we must be aware of that," Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said in his nightly address on Monday after regional leaders and residents reported heavy bombardments.

"The most difficult fighting situation today is in Donbas," Zelenskyy said, singling out the worst-hit towns of Bakhmut, Popasna and Severodonetsk. Ukraine's armed forces said Russian troops were conducting non-stop "offensive operations" in the region.

The Ukrainian presidency said on Tuesday that four people in one house had been killed and four others wounded in the shelling of Severodonetsk, while another three people were killed and six hurt in Donetsk region.

Zelenskyy said in his address that Russia had carried out nearly 1,500 missile strikes and more than 3,000 airstrikes against Ukraine in the first three months of the war.

Ukraine's prosecutor general said 234 children had been killed since the war began, and 433 injured. Western countries have sent huge amounts of weapons and cash to Ukraine and punished Moscow with unprecedented economic sanctions.But Ukraine is demanding swifter delivery of arms and tougher action against Russia. AFP/AP

Sweden, Finland to send delegates to woo Turkey over NATO bids

Davos: Sweden and Finland will send delegations to Ankara this week hoping to clear up differences with Turkey which opposes their applications to join NATO, Finnish Foreign Minister Pekka Haavisto said Tuesday. "When we see the problems coming, of course, we take this diplomatically. We are sending our delegations to visit Ankara from both Sweden and Finland," Haavisto told attendees at the World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland. Sweden and Finland applied to join the transatlantic alliance in the wake of Russia's invasion of Ukraine. AFP

Russia bars entry of 154 UK MPs

Moscow: Russia's foreign ministry on Tuesday announced that it was imposing an entry ban on 154 members of the UK parliament's House of Lords in retaliation for sanctions against Russian senators over Ukraine. Those listed included William Hague, a former foreign minister and leader of the Conservative Party in opposition. The blacklist does not include Russian-born press baron Evgeny Lebedev, who was controversially granted a peerage by Prime Minister Boris Johnson's government in 2020. AFP

Moscow plans to scrap upper age limit to join army

MOSCOW

RUSSIA'S parliament is to consider scrapping the upper age limit for signing up to join the army, in a sign Moscow may be looking to recruit more troops for its military campaign in Ukraine. Under current legislation, only Russians aged 18 to 40 and foreign nationals aged 18 to 30 have the right to sign their first military service contract. A draft bill on the agenda of the lower house State Duma for Wednesday would completely lift that upper age limit.

"Highly professional specialists are needed to use high-precision weapons and operate weapons and military equipment," said a note accompanying the draft bill. The note said that such specialists usually acquire the necessary skills when they reach their early- to mid-40s.

President Vladimir Putin sent troops to Ukraine on February 24 but three months into Moscow's military campaign the offensive has "lost momentum", Western defence chiefs say. Russia is believed to have suffered significant human and material losses in Ukraine even though precise details have not been revealed by the Kremlin. AFP

Turkey min's visit aims to boost Palestinian economy

RAMALLAH

TURKEY'S top diplomat announced on Tuesday a raft of new agreements to bolster the struggling Palestinian economy, during the first high-level Turkish visit to the Israeli-occupied West Bank in 15 years.

During Foreign Minister Mevlut Cavusoglu's trip to Ramallah, Turkey signed nine new pacts with the embattled Palestinian Authority, ranging from agriculture to education and trade.

Cavusoglu will meet Israeli officials on Wednesday, the latest step in a diplomatic thaw between Ankara and the Jewish state. He will also make a private visit to the Al-Asqa mosque compound in Israeli-annexed east Jerusalem. Alongside his Palestinian counterpart Riyad al-Maliki, Cavusoglu pledged to push ahead with plans for the construction of an industrial zone in the Palestinian territories.

"The necessary order has been given; there is no luxury for evading and delaying this project," he said, also setting a $2 billion annual bilateral trade target and pledging more scholarships with Palestinians to study in Turkey.

The World Bank warned this month that the Palestinian economy was in a "precarious" state, with the cash-strapped Palestinian Authority — a major West Bank employer — only paying partial wages since November. AFP

FII selling in 5 months of 2022 highest ever

Markets could correct 5-8% if selling continues apace, say analysts; nearly half of Nifty shares fell due to FII selling

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

RISING interest rates in the US and Europe have resulted in FIIs pulling out a whopping $21.3 bn (₹1.62 lakh crore) from local shares in the calendar year to date, the highest-ever net sale by foreign investors in Indian stock markets in less than five months.

The FII selling has dragged nearly half of Nifty 50 shares into a bear market.

"When interest rates rise in developed markets such as the US, the risk-free rate of return drastically reduces, causing foreign investors to dump emerging market shares and head for the safety of the dollar," said Sudip Bandyopadhyay, group chairman, India-trade Capital.

The sale of shares by FIIs has coincided with the Nifty 50 and Sensex30 correcting a little over 7% each from the beginning of the year.

While on the index level, the correction seems tame, the fall in individual blue-chip shares from their 52-week highs through the last traded price on May 24 is much steeper.

For instance, a fifth of Nifty stocks have fallen 30% or more from their 52-week highs. These include the likes of TechMahindra, Wipro, Zee, Hindalco, Bajaj Finserv, etc.

Nearly three-tenths of the constituents, including UltraTech, HDFC Bank, ONGC, Dr Reddy's Lab, Titan, have fallen over 20%, indicating that

RED ALERT

- Nifty, Sensex down 13% YTD
- A fifth of Nifty stocks down 30% or more from recent highs
- Nearly half of Nifty 50 in a bear market
- Since Oct 2021, FII selling at ₹2L cr, almost 4 times since the GFC struck in 2008-09

a total of 24 index constituents are already in a bear market, as per data from IndiaCharts. A significant part of the fall has happened in 2022.

A stock, or a financial asset, slips into the bear market when it falls more than 20% from its recent highs.

Bandyopadhyay expects FII selling to continue apace, at around ₹32,000-₹33,000 crore on average a month, until the US Fed pauses rate hikes.

Since March, the US Fed has raised the benchmark Fed fund rates by 75 bps to 0.75-1% from near zero, causing FIIs pulling out of EMs like India.

"If the selling continues the way it has been since January, we could possibly correct by another 5-8%," added Bandyopadhyay.

Well-known value investor Vijay Kedia said that "calling a bottom" amid continued FII selling was "near impossible."

The FII selling began in earnest from October last year when both Nifty and Sensex hit their peaks – at 18,604.45 and 62,245.43. From there both the indices are down 13%.

Since October, FIIs have sold shares worth ₹2 lakh crore. That's almost 4 times more than the ₹52,987 crore they sold during 2008 at the time of the Great Financial Crisis.

SRI LANKA

RAISES FUEL PRICES TO ADDRESS ECONOMIC CRISIS

Sri Lanka increased fuel prices on Tuesday, a long-flagged move to mend public finances and combat its debilitating economic crisis, but the hikes are bound to add to galloping inflation at least in the short term. Power and Energy Minister Kanchana Wijesekera said in a message on Twitter that petrol prices would increase by 20-24% while diesel prices would rise by 35-38% with immediate effect. Daily limits on how much each consumer can purchase will continue. "The government will hold talks with transport sector stakeholders to increase costs parallel to the latest increases," he later said in an online cabinet briefing. Fuel and transport price increases will inevitably flow through to food and other goods, economists said.

Annual inflation in the island nation rose to a record 33.8% in April compared with 21.5% in March, according to government data released on Monday. "Not only the petrol problem - consumer prices, everything is very high, food is also very high," said businessman Mohammad Irfan, waiting in a queue at a gas pump in the capital, Colombo. He said he had been there for four hours. "It is very difficult for the poor people, middle class people. They are facing problems day by day."

INDONESIA

CENTRAL BANK HOLDS RATES

Indonesia's central bank announced on Tuesday more aggressive hikes in the reserve requirement ratio (RRR) for banks, expecting inflation to rise slightly above its target band this year, but kept interest rates unchanged at a record low. Bank Indonesia (BI) announced a quicker pace in RRR hikes, ordering banks to park 7.5% of their reserves starting July and 9% from September. This compared with BI's previously announced policy path, in which BI had set three staggered RRR hikes this year from 3.5% to 6.5% in September. BI left the benchmark 7-day reverse repurchase rate at a record low of 3.50%, as expected by 25 of 27 economists polled by Reuters. Its two other main rates were also unchanged. During the pandemic, BI cut interest rates by a total of 150 basis points and injected billions of dollars into the financial system and the RRR hikes were its first move to normalise monetary policy. Governor Perry Warjiyo said inflation will be slightly higher than BI's 2% to 4% target range this year. The additional RRR hikes are set to mop up 110 trillion rupiah ($7.51 billion) of liquidity from the banking system, but Warjiyo said this should not affect lenders' ability to loan.

SINGAPORE

APRIL CORE INFLATION RISES 3.3%, FASTEST IN A DECADE

Singapore's core inflation rose to 3.3% on a year-on-year basis in April 2022, accelerating from 2.9% in March and marking the highest level since January 2012, official data showed on Monday. The rise in core inflation was driven by higher inflation for electricity and gas, food as well as retail and other goods, the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS) said in a statement. Core inflation excludes accommodation and private transport costs. Singapore's headline consumer price index, or overall inflation, came in at 5.4% year-on-year in April, unchanged from March, as private transport inflation moderated. The MAS, Singapore's central bank, tightened its monetary policy on 14 April to tackle rising domestic inflation, which threatens economic growth this year. Food inflation increased from 3.3 per cent in March to 4.1 per cent in April as prices of non-cooked food and food services rose at a higher pace, said MAS and MTI. Core inflation is projected to average 2.5 per cent to 3.5 per cent for the year, while headline inflation is expected to come in between 4.5 per cent and 5.5 per cent.

IPO

As volatility persists, OYO listing may get delayed

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE much-awaited IPO of Bank-backed hospitality firm OYO is likely to get delayed as the company has written to market regulator Sebi, seeking to file updated consolidated financial information.

A person aware of the development said the company would launch the IPO only after September. Another report indicates the IPO is not likely to hit the market in 2022.

Oravel Stays, which runs OYO, had filed preliminary papers with Sebi to raise ₹8,430 crore through an initial share sale in October last year, but hasn't yet received a green signal from the regulator. It is also learnt that the firm is prepared to settle for a lower valuation of nearly $7-8 billion as against the previous target of $11 billion. In August 2021, when OYO raised $5 million from Microsoft, it was valued at $9.6 billion.

"Price swings in a newly-listed stock create concern among the public. Among such sentiments, it will be best to be able to first show the investors that the business revival is real, it is strong and is leading to much higher bookings and perhaps, the first sign of a positive bottomline. Hence, OYO is likely to wait for a quarter," said a person aware of the company's plans to go public.

In a letter to Sebi, Oyo has sought permission to include restated financial statements for six-month periods ending September 30, 2022; September 30, 2021; and September 30, 2020. According to the company's draft red herring prospectus, OYO made a loss of ₹1,744.7 crore in FY21. This change in plan came after a sharp plunge in share prices of new age companies such as Paytm, Zomato, Nykaa and few other loss making companies.

Sebi sets norms to make ETFs attractive for retail investors

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) has recommended that mutual fund houses appoint at least two market makers to provide two -way quotes to investors in passive funds — ETFs or index funds — in a move to improve the liquidity in such funds.

Retail participation in ETFs tends to be low because of the wide bid - ask spreads. By appointing market makers, who can provide thin buy- sell spreads, asset management companies or AMCs can attract more retail investor interest toward passive funds.

A passive fund , unlike an active fund, mimics the underlying index like Nifty or Bank Nifty or a debt index. The investor returns are based on how the underlying index moves .

"Considering the emergence of passive funds ….as an investment product for retail investors globally and various advantages of passive investing like transparency, diversification , lower cost vis a vis active funds , a need was felt to review the regulatory framework for passive funds in India ," a Sebi circular of May 23 read.

MF investors looking for tax savings can also avail of a passive equity-linked saving scheme or ELSS. However, fund houses launching such schemes can launch either an active ELSS scheme or a passive ELSS scheme .

Debt ETFs or index funds could be based on indices comprising corporate debt securities or government securities, t-bills and or state development loans or a combination of corporate debt securities and G-sec/t-bills/SDLs(hybrid indices).

These securities can be held to maturity, which provides investors who don't churn their portfolios actively an attractive proposition to invest in debt for stable returns.

Levying service charge is individual choice, asserts NRAI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FOLLOWING a warning from government to restaurants on collecting service charge from consumers by default, the National Restaurant Association of India said the levy of service charge is a matter of individual policy.

"There is no illegality in levying such a charge," it said.

The Department of Consumer Affairs (DoCA) on Monday said it has scheduled a meeting on June 2 with NRAI to discuss the issues pertaining to service charge levied by restaurants. Guidelines issued by DoCA note that entry of a customer in a restaurant can't itself be construed as a consent to pay service charge.

The meeting comes as DoCA said it's taking notice of a number of media reports as well as grievances registered by consumers on the National Consumer Helpline (NCH). Service charge at restaurants is a fee collected to pay for services such as air conditioning, ambience, serving food, etc.

In a letter written by Rohit Kumar Singh, secretary, Department of Consumer Affairs, to president of NRAI, it has pointed out 'that the restaurants and eateries are collecting service charge from consumers by default, even as collection of any such charge is voluntary and at the discretion of consumers.'

The association said information regarding the amount of service charge is mentioned by restaurants on their menu cards or displayed on the premises, so customers are aware of this charge before availing the services.

"It becomes an agreement between the parties, and is not an unfair trade practice," it said.

India's crude oil output fell 1% in April: Govt

New Delhi: India produced 2.47 million tonnes of crude oil in April, 1% down from the output of 2.5 million tonnes in the same month last year, according to data released by the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas on Tuesday. Production fell in April due to lower output from fields operated by the private sector wiped away gains by the state-owned firms such as ONGC and OIL, official data showed. Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) produced 1.65 million tonnes of crude oil in April, which was nearly 5% more than the target set for it and 0.86% higher than the 1.63 million tonnes produced last year. Oil India (OIL) produced 3.6% more crude at 2,51,460 tonnes but fields operated by the private sector produced 7.5% less at 5,67,570 tonnes. Natural gas output rose by 6.6% to 2.82 billion cubic meters in April. ENS

Power plants compelled to buy coal at high prices: CCAI

RAKESH KUMAR @ NewDelhi

EVEN as the had government claimed that coal production has increased in the past few months, the Coal Consumers' Association of India (CCAI) on Tuesday said they are compelled to buy the fuel at high prices just to keep their plants running.

CCAI, in a letter to coal minister Prahald Joshi, sought government's intervention in providing relief to the beleaguered coal buyers, as many of them are compelled to idle their captive power plants due to insufficient supplies. "The average bid price of coal in a recently conducted spot e-auction by MCL (Mahanadi Coalfields Ltd) rose as high as 800% above the notified price. It is evident that some of MCL's valuable customers are compelled to procure coal at such abysmally high premiums only for sustenance of their plants," reads the CCAI letter.

The soaring bid prices, CCAI complained, had prevented many industries from participating in the auction. They are now resorted to drawing expensive power from the exchange while nearly idling their captive plants, consequently increasing electricity demand and tariffs further. Meanwhile, the government claimed there was no shortage of coal in the country, in fact, the production went up in the past few months. According to the ministry, total coal output raised to 33.94 million tonnes (MT), achieving a growth of 36.23% over the output of 24.91 MT during the same period last year.

Aditya Birla Fashion to raise ₹2K cr from Singapore firm

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ NewDelhi

FASHION retailer Aditya Birla Fashion and Retail (ABFRL) on Tuesday said its board has approved raising ₹2,195 crore of primary capital from Singapore's GIC sovereign wealth fund.

GIC will invest ₹770 crore now towards subscription of equity and warrants, followed by up to ₹1,425 crore in one or more tranches within 18 months upon exercise of warrants, ABFRL said in a statement. Post the entire investment, GIC will own 7.5% equity stake and Aditya Birla Group will hold 51.9% stake in the company.

ABFRL said it plans to use this capital to accelerate its growth engine built around the strength of its current businesses along with a rapidly evolving play in emerging high-growth business models.

This capital infusion will allow the company to accelerate growth of its platform of strong brands and well-established retail formats in the fast-growing branded apparel market, Ashish Dikshit, MD of ABFRL, said.

Kumar Mangalam Birla, Chairman of Aditya Birla Group, said, "Indian Apparel industry is set for robust long-term growth due to strong fundamentals of a large and growing middle-class, favourable demographics, rising disposable incomes and aspiration for brands." "An investment of this nature serves to underscore ABFRL's strong position and dynamic growth model," Birla said.

After muted listing, Delhivery gains 10% on Day 1

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER a muted debut, shares of logistic startup Delhivery saw increased buying even as benchmark indices ended with a minor cut on Tuesday.

The stock, despite trading at a discount in the unofficial grey market, got listed at ₹493, a gain of 1.23% from the issue price on the BSE. During the day, it rallied 16.81% to touch a high of ₹568.90 before settling at ₹537.25, a gain of 10.31%.

On the NSE, the stock got listed at ₹495.20, up 1.68% and closed at ₹536.25 apiece, a jump of over 10%.

This strong performance on its opening day helped Delhivery to command a market valuation of ₹38,923.93 crore on the BSE. This is about ₹3,000 lower than the m-cap of fintech firm Paytm even as their pre-listing valuation had a huge difference. Paytm, which gained over 4% on Tuesday, had a valuation ₹41,960.79 crore.

Amid global sell-off, technology stocks, especially ones that are yet to report profits, have seen massive slump in their valuations in the past couple of months with heavyweights such as Paytm, Zomato and Nykaa wiping out billions of dollars of investors' wealth.

Owing to current volatility, analysts were expecting a discounted listing for Delhivery since its ₹5,235 crore-IPO got subscribed by only 1.63 times on the final bidding day.

Sahil Barua, founder and CEO of Delhivery, said in his pre-listing speech that there has been a lot of talk about the markets being choppy but one thing is sure that logistics is going to be a $200 billion market. "Delhivery is still going to be earning nearly a billion dollars in revenue. We're still going to be breaking-even and get better in the coming years," he said.

Yash Gupta- Equity Research Analyst, Angel One, said, "Short-term investors can book profit in the IPO and long-term investors should remain invested. Currently, the company is trading at a enterprise value/ sales of 4.8x and price-to-book value of 5.2x on annualised number of FY22." "We have given a neutral rating to Delhivery IPO," added Gupta.

Meanwhile, the initial share sale of speciality chemicals company Aether Industries received 33% subscription on the first day of offer on Tuesday.

Truecaller not worried with India's plan to have own caller identifier mechanism

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

TRUECALLER, a Sweden-based caller identifying app, on Tuesday denied that India's plan to develop a caller-name display system would be any competit1ion to the company.

On the contrary, the company said, it welcomes all attempts aimed at helping in the mission to make communications safer and more secure.

"Based on the information available at present, we do not see this would be a competitive service comparable to the services and functionality that Truecaller offers to its more than 310 million monthly active users. With its technology and data, Truecaller solves many more issues than a basic number identification service," said Alan Mamedi, the company's CEO and co-founder in a statement. Recently, Trai chairman P D Vaghela said the regulatory body received a reference from telecom ministry to start a mechanism that will flash KYC-based names on phone screens when someone calls. Trai will start consultation on this proposal in the next few months. Truecaller provides similar services and India is one its biggest markets. It had over 220 million active users in India in November 2021. "If the service described was to be developed, the assessment is that its implementation would take many years and require a successful collaboration with major telecom operators," said the company in a press note.

> If the service described was to be developed, its implementation would take years and require a collaboration with major telecom operators

Mamedi further said, "We have seen many players - both private and state-driven - trying to enter this industry, and we are humble in the face of this great challenge it entails to ensure safe and reliable communication for everyone."

KILLER MILLER

South Africa batter smashes an unbeaten 68 from 38 to help GT beat RR by 7 wickets

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

BEFORE the latest iteration of the Indian Premier League (IPL), Gujarat Titans released a video where captain Hardik Pandya promised to take the team 'towards that peak called sporting success'. Less than two months later, Pandya & Co are 40 overs away from leading the franchise to an IPL title in their debut season.

Like most of their big wins this season, the one against Rajasthan Royals where they gunned down 189 with 7 wickets remaining in the first qualifier at Eden Gardens, was also forged through familiar names. Rashid Khan kept the target down to 189 before Shubman Gill produced the early impetus that's often necessary while needing an average of more than nine runs per over from the start. Matthew Wade provided the bridge between anchor and aggressive before Hardik Pandya and David Miller — two batters who have repeatedly changed the narrative of games this year — shape-shifted another chase.

Needing 16 off the final set of six balls, David Miller, who will surely be in the reckoning to win any 'Most Improved Overseas Batter' awards this year, despatched Prasidh Krishna to a hat-trick of boundaries to kickstart the celebrations in the Gujarat dug-out. It's something Miller has done to a lot of sides this season.

TODAY'S MATCH

At the other end, Pandya was unbeaten on 40 off 27 balls. While Miller will get the immediate accolades, Pandya's initial thrust allowed Miller, who was 9 off 13 at one stage, to assess the situation. This certainly wasn't in the script when Pandya walked into bat, needing 117 off 74 balls. Knowing that he had to keep the required run rate in check, he raced to 20 off his first nine balls (four boundaries) which allowed Miller to bide his time.

From RR's perspective, they were let down by their lead spinners having an off night in terms of wicket-taking as well as keeping the run rate in check. R Ashwin was taken down by Gill in sensational fashion (his first over went for 17) and he never got the control he usually gets. In the end, Yuzvendra Chahal and he went wicket-less, giving away 72 runs in eight overs (10 dots, 5 boundaries and 3 sixes).

Both teams now go to Ahmedabad, with Rajasthan awaiting the winners of the clash between Lucknow and Bangalore on Wednesday. While it was a disappointing night, they will still believe. Orange Cap holder, Jos Buttler, whose innings may have ultimately cost the opportunity to set a target in excess of 200, showed a welcome return to form in the second-half of the first innings as he finished with 89 off 56 (39 off 38 after 16 overs).

Brief scores: RR 188/6 in 20 ovs (Buttler 89, Samson 47) lost to GT 191/3 in 19.3 ovs (Miller 68 n.o, Hardik 40 n.o).

Banned from trials, judoka wants to take own life

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

THE selection trials to pick up male judokas for the 2022 Commonwealth Games (CWG) in Birmingham have plunged into controversy with one of the athletes, who was barred from competing in them, threatening to die by suicide on Tuesday. The trials to select the men's team in three weight categories are scheduled in Patiala on Wednesday and Thursday. The trials for women were in New Delhi on Monday and Tuesday.

"I was banned by the Judo Federation of India for two years but the same was revoked by its president Partap Singh Bajwa. Then how can they debar me from competing in the trials? I met Cawas Billimoria, chairman of selection committee appointed by the SAI, but to no avail. Given the situation I am left with no option but to take my own life," Jatin, the Haryana judoka in question, told this daily from Patiala.

JFI, which has been now derecognised, had sent the names of four athletes (3 weight divisions in men and women sections) in each category to the Commonwealth Games Organising Committee in March this year. Besides, trials were held in the women's 78kg class as well because the organisers have indicated that they may accommodate India's request to allow an extra competitor. Jatin claimed that his name is there among four selected judokas in 60kg. Speaking about the action that led to ban, he said, "We competed in Olbia Junior World Championships held in Italy in October last year. There I along with another Indian judoka mistakenly knocked on the door of a female athlete from the USA. We apologised also and after that, I competed in Cadet Nationals and won gold. I also competed in Cadet and Junior Asian Championships," added the judoka.

Man Mohan Jaiswal, the secretary general of the now derecognised JFI, however, claimed that the ban was imposed on two judokas and three coaches to ensure the International Judo Federation (IJF) does not sanction JFI.

"After I was reinstated earlier this year, I received emails and calls from the IJF seeking disciplinary action the body has taken against these two judokas and coaches who accompanied them to Italy. I issued notices to the parties concerned and even took everybody in confidence and followed all due process before imposing the ban as we were given a deadline to take necessary action by IJF. The ban was later revoked by the president and Jatin is making his claim to compete on the same ground. However, it should be understood that the IJF has already blocked registration of those banned by them and even if they manage to win trials, they wouldn't be allowed to compete in the CWG," he said.

When contacted, Billimoria said he can't speak on the issue. Jatin also accused a few coaches in his letter, wherein he threatened to take his life. One of them, Jiwan Sharma, the national coach, was surprised. "I never trained that judoka. Besides, I am not there in the selection committee."

Velocity use muscle and finesse to defeat Supernovas

GOMESH S @ Chennai

AS Supernovas recovered from 18/3 to 150/5 — largely thanks to their skipper Harmanpreet Kaur, scoring 71 off 51 — they knew what they were up against: a power-packed batting line-up featuring Shafali Verma, Kiran Navgire, Natthakan Chantam, Yastika Bhatia, Laura Wolvaardt, Deepti Sharma and Sneh Rana. Which is why, when Chantham walked out to open with Shafali instead of Kiran, it was an understandable move. Muscle at one end and finesse at the other. In fact, that would be the theme of Velocity's batting approach over the course of the next 90 minutes as Supernovas were left with no answers, losing the match by seven wickets. Starting against the World's No 1 T20I bowler, Shafali did not waste any time to take her on and finally led team to victory.

Easy for Medvedev, Rune upsets Shapovalov

PARIS: World No 2 Daniil Medvedev eased into the French Open second round on Tuesday as Denmark's Holger Rune reminded Roland Garros that arlos Alcaraz is not the only teenager dreaming of the title. Medvedev, who came into Paris with just one match on clay this year following hernia surgery, routed Argentina's 103rd-ranked Facundo Bagnis 6-2, 6-2, 6-2 on the back of 35 winners and eight breaks of serve. Rune, 19 and just a week older than the highly-rated Alcaraz, marked his main draw debut with a 6-3, 6-1, 7-6 (4) dismissal of 14th-seeded Canadian Denis Shapovalov.

Modest season opener for long-jumper Shaili Singh

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

INJURIES and comebacks are part of every athlete's career. A meticulous rehabilitation process, gradual training and the right time to get back into competition mode are some of challenging aspects tackled by the athlete and their support staff. If you are a Shaili Singh, who trains at the Ajnu Bobby George Academy in Bengaluru, a coach would play a central role in making a decision in that process.

After almost nine months, Shaili hit the track at the Indian Grand Prix 4 in Bhubaneswar on Tuesday. For a girl who won silver at the World Junior Athletics Championships in Nairobi last August with a jump of 6.59m, her best jump of 6.27m was quite modest. However, considering it as the start of her season, 6.27m could be counted as an aberration. She finished third behind Nayana James (6.37m) and Ancjy Sojan (6.35m). Her coach Robert Bobby George was not worried. Shaili was injured during the junior Worlds and it took more than six months to recover. She resumed jumping only last month after her rehabilitation process got over. "We had to take it slow because of her injury and she started jumping last month," said Robert. She hurt her hip during one of her jumps in Nairobi.

Shaili's coach was expecting around 6.35m. He said long jump is all about rhythm and sometimes you don't get into a rhythm that could propel the athlete to a longer distance. "I think she will need some more time and will get back into the rhythm soon," he said. The Indian GP gave them an opportunity to evaluate, assess and work. The senior inter-state athletics event next month would be their next target. "She will improve by then," he said.

Calling friends over for a meal or heading out to restaurants seems to be passe in Bengaluru where people are hiring private spaces for a unique private dining experience

ANILA KURIAN

DESPITE restaurants bourgeoning in the city, Bengalureans are looking for more and more creative spaces to dine privately these days.

They are booking Airbnb homes which offer a space in the house (terrace or balcony) to spend a few hours, or even hiring small restaurants on the outskirts of the city for a private dining experience.

Started four months ago, Thinnai offers a private dining experience where you can order your favourite food, bring your own booze and chill at one of the private homes decked up for you. According to Aravinth Prabu, founder and CEO, they get 70 to 80 enquiries on a daily day through Instagram and WhatsApp about this. "We have a few homes across the city that have tied up with us via Airbnb and they rent out a part of their homes (either their terrace or balcony space) where people can dine at their convenience."

The hosts give them the time and space except if their patrons require some assistance. "Not more than eight guests are allowed as it's also someone's home. The decorations they have put up will also remain unless and until the host themselves want to modify it. This year, guests will get the private space they want and the hosts will also be remunerated for the space rented," he says, adding that there was a guest who even hired a balcony to catch up on his reading.

Giving a luscious view of the greenery is Lakehouse, next to Rachenahalli Lake, Hebbal, which is a garden restaurant in an intimate open-air setting. It is Arjun Ramamurthy's private property with the garden space now being utilised for a private dining setup. "We host birthdays and gatherings for those who book prior with us. Even if it's just two people who want to dine in, we close the space for a private experience," he explains, adding that some top celebrities have also dined at the space without having to worry about the intrusion of fans. "Guests can book the place for lunch or dinner and we offer a five-course gourmet meal as well," Ramamurthy adds.

Taking it a notch higher is Farmhouse Social located on the outskirts of Bengaluru. It's a 2.5-acre property which can accommodate up to 300 guests.

Owner Vivek Joseph highlights that they are planning to open another space soon which will house only upto 50 guests. "The current space we have is even used for intimate weddings. But we do see a good number of birthdays and bachelorette parties being held where we can either help them with caterers or they bring their own food," says Joseph, adding that weekends are usually booked out for smaller gatherings, while smaller gatherings are held on weekdays.

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

THE QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz'

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE on Thursday.

1. Bengaluru became the first city in Asia to light up its streets with electricity and the first street bulb was lit on August 5, 1905. Electricity was transmitted from Shivanasamudra hydro-electric project across river Cauvery. Where in the Pete area (old city) was the street bulb lit — City Market junction or Mysore Bank Circle?

2. Telephone lines were laid much before laying of electric lines in Bengaluru. It is reported that telephone lines were installed for the first time in Bangalore Cantonment soon after its introduction in Madras in 1881. In 1896, a 11-mile line between Hesaraghatta reservoir and Banavara was laid and was used extensively to coordinate anti-plague operations in 1898. True or false?

3. Bangalore GPO was established in 1800. Much before the East India Company introduced its postal services in India in 1766, Chikkadevaraja Wodeyar, the then Maharaja of Mysore established a regular organised postal system known as 'Anche' in the 17th century. True or false?

With sustainable fashion being the buzzword, designers are exploring hemp-based fabrics as they are environmentally-friendly and lightweight

Slow and stylish

MONIKA MONALISA

WHILE the fashion industry has a reputation of being one of the biggest pollutants, there are many in the industry who are rectifying it by looking at slow fashion options. In Bengaluru, many designers are now exploring hemp-based fabrics.

It creases like linen but feels like cotton, that's how designers describe hemp fabric. Designers like Pooja Monga, who runs a label called Saltpetre, says hemp's nativity factors make it more sustainable too. "Linen and hemp are essentially the same kind of fabric, that is flax fabric, which means the base is grass. The process to derive the fabric is also the same. The difference is hemp grows naturally in India, that makes it sustainable to source. This is huge, especially after industrial hemp cultivation is legalised," says Monga, whose latest collection has a wide range of apparels made of hemp fabric.

Linen has always been considered as a rich man's fabric, and Chirag Tekchandaney, cofounder and CEO, Bombay Hemp Company (BOHECO), feels there's a lot of unlearning involved when it comes to the stigma attached to hemp.

When his partner and he started the brand in 2013, they knew it would take work to convince people. "We knew there has to be an unlearning from consumer mindspace about what they know about cannabis in the country. When we started making apparels, we wanted to make sophisticated pieces that people could wear to work and after hours too," says Tekchandaney, adding that the price of a basic shirt starts from ₹2,500.

Arati Monappa, who recently curated a fabric dyeing workshop in the city, says the fabric works wonders when it comes to dyeing. "It dyes beautifully on the hemp fabric," explains Monappa, who tried dyeing three of them. While Monappa is quite impressed with the fabric, she still believes one of the factors why people don't opt for it is the pricing. "Hemp fabric is still very niche with apparels being priced quite high. It will probably take some time for prices to normalise and for people to go for it," she explains.

What makes hemp fabric an essential for slow fashion?

Breaking it down...A hemp shirt is a combination of two fibres, making it crisp yet soft. From a durability perspective, it has got 10 times more tensile strength than cotton, hence termed a slow fashion material

SUPTA VIRASANA

(RECLINING HERO POSE)

It is an intermediate variation of Virasana. From Virasana, the yogi grasps the feet and reclines until the entire back and head rest on the floor. The asana may be deepened by holding the elbow of the opposite hands above the head while still on the floor. It is recommended to master Virasana before continuing on to Supta Virasana. Beginners may use a bolster to support the back and/or separate the knees slightly to help ease into the pose. It stimulates the Manipura (solar plexus) chakra.

STEPS

- Stand on your knees and bring them closer to spread your feet wide apart.
- Turn your calves outwards using your hands and place your buttocks in between the heels. This is Virasana.
- Press your elbows to the floor, exhale, and start leaning back.
- Bring your hands to your heels and lie down on your back.
- Inhale and raise your arms and bring them behind your head interlocking them at the fore arms to arch the entire back.
- Keep breathing and stay in the pose for 30-60 seconds.
- Inhale and bring your arms back to your heels. By pressing the elbows, come back up.
- Now, bring your hands to your knees. Stand on your knees and bring your feet together.
- Finally, sit in Virasana and relax.

LIMITATIONS

- If you have issues in the back, knee, or ankle, angina, partially blocked arteries or have had recent bypass surgery or feel pain while sitting in Virasana, avoid this.

BY HOOK OR CROOK FOR BOOKS

B'luru writer-couple Zac O'Yeah and Anjum Hasan launch an initiative that brings together book lovers and writers at popular bookshops on Church Street to enliven the reading experience

ISHRATH MUBEEN

READING takes you to another world, that of fantasy, right from the comfort of your room's cozy corner. For the love of books, writer couple Zac O'Yeah and Anjum Hasan will kickstart an initiative where local authors, bookstore owners, and book lovers will come together to celebrate bookstores as prominent cultural institutions. Starting this Saturday, 19 writers will participate in the events. This will be followed by a panel discussion on Sunday about writers and their relationship with bookshops. Ramachandra Guha, Anita Nair, and Nisha Susan, are some of the prominent authors who are participating in this initiative.

"We will start off with six events in six shops, with lots of book talk and fun interactive elements such as writers guiding book lovers to their favourite shelves," says O'Yeah. The idea behind it is to highlight books and bookshops as a universe of ideas. Writers can share anecdotes about how they discovered books, their most inspiring reads, strange experiences they've had in bookshops, and so on.

Writers begin their lives in bookshops where, as children, they discover the beauty of books and get inspired to try their hands at writing. A few years later, as aspiring writers, they go there to admire the great books by writers. And ultimately, as professional full-time writers, it is the bookshop staff who become their closest colleagues in many ways, as they are the people who spread their writings, says O'Yeah, who has watched bookshops in Bengaluru work hard to promote their local writers.

Even if you walk out without a book, visits to the bookstores are therapeutic. "Browsing for books can be an education in patience and if nothing else, an exercise in daydreaming. One is not only a consumer in a bookshop. So if for no other reason we need bookstores to take us out of this robotic mode we seem to be stuck in," says Hasan, adding, "This event is a way to salute Bengaluru's bookshop owners who kept the trade alive despite two years of drought."

Following the pandemic, Shatrujeet Nath, author of several thrillers and O'Yeah's writer-friend, insists that as writers, they should do something for the bookshops they love. "And so I asked my writer friends if they'd volunteer to support their favourite bookshops. In the process, the main challenge was of course Covid-19 itself," he says.

The fact that bestselling writers were prepared to become a part of this initiative turned out to be overwhelming for the bookshop owners. "Blossom's Mayi and Karuna, Bookworm's Krishna, Goobe's Ravi, Bookhive's Keshava, Select's Sanjay and Murthy, and Higginbotham's Ananda are not just businessmen because if they were they'd have long switched to some other business," says Hasan.

O'Yeah adds that this isn't a literary festival but a get-together for anyone interested in literature. "It can be done again and again as long as there are bookshops and book lovers willing to continue," O'Yeah adds.

Lost diary of Kasturba Gandhi to be out soon

A century-and-a-half after her birth, The Lost Diary of Kastur, My Ba (HarperCollins) by her great-grandson Tushar Gandhi finally presents Kasturba as her own person, a woman of substance.

Rare photos of Kasturba and Mahatma Gandhi are an added bonus, as the reader gets to hear from Kasturba, in her own words, for the first time, providing through day-to-day activities a peek into what it was like to be married to the Mahatma.

It surfaced a couple of years ago when the staff of the Gandhi Research Foundation in Jalgaon found a deteriorating and damaged diary at the Kasturba Ashram, Indore.

It turned out to be a 135-page diary written by Kasturba Gandhi, from January to September 1933. Somewhat like Kasturba, her diary lay forgotten and neglected. This book is a reproduction of the diary, accompanied by a transcription of what she wrote in Gujarati, along with an English translation by Tushar Gandhi.

Collector's piece

FLYLEAF
VR FEROSE

(The author is a technologist based in Silicon Valley who is gently mad about books)

I have been a compulsive collector – starting with stamps, like most kids those days, when I was 10 years old, and moving on to match boxes, the rubber stamps underneath Cola caps, and comics. Stamps were peeled off letter envelopes, matchboxes picked up from the neighbourhood streets and Cola caps collected during trips to the market. Only the comics were bought but none was collectable at the time. I sometimes collected cricket photos cut out from newspapers and pasted them in a book.

From the ages of 15 to 25, studies took priority and then I dived deep into collecting with greater passion and obsession as my resources and finances improved. When I travelled internationally, I collected coins, postcards, masks and model cars. For the past two decades, though, I have been a serious book collector, specialising in rare and signed books.

So why do people collect something? Why is collecting things the world's biggest hobby? Why are television shows like American Pickers, Antiques Roadshow, Bargain Hunt and Pawn Stars so popular? Why are there more male collectors than female? Here are some of the books where you can find the answers.

One of my favourite books on collecting is Hunter Davies' Confessions of a Collector. It is a perfect introduction to and a personal celebration of the strangely compelling world of collecting. I felt at peace after reading the book, knowing that there is a reason behind my madness!

Another of my favourites is On Collecting by Susan Pearce. Academic in nature, this book is invaluable to museum professionals, students and cultural historians, and also to the general reader who is curious about this social phenomenon. Pearce explores the psychology of collecting: why do we bestow value on certain objects and how does this add meaning to our lives? But if you want to know the range of things people collect, you must read Men and Collectors by Brian Jenner. Apparently people collect everything from beer mats, bean tins and lawnmowers to airline sick-bags!

My current book collection serves multiple purposes – reading in order to write, sometimes reading for pleasure and at other times buying a book only because it is a rare collectable. Every collector will tell you that the joy is in the hunt, and that often, once you get the object you lose interest.

Collectors also collect for the joy of completion. I often buy a sub-category of rare books (eg. signed books by Noble Laureates) and then spend time and energy trying to complete the collection or reach a landmark (eg. 100 books signed by Nobel Laureates). Once a category is completed you move to the next. But never underestimate the immense learning that occurs in the process of collecting. I must admit, my collecting has also become my escape and distraction in an otherwise busy schedule. My wife may be best suited to share the downsides of my obsession – we will keep that for another occasion!

Susan Pearce writes that every third person collects something. Famous collectors include President Franklin D Roosevelt(stamps), Andy Warhol (anything interesting), Ian Fleming(first editions), Tom Hanks (typewriters)and Rachel Whiteread(doll houses). Every collector collects for their own reason. With rapidly changing technology, many items have become instantly collectable – typewriters, mechanical clocks and telephones for example. And as people's disposable income and leisure time increase, collecting will continue to flourish and grow.

As John Windle, the famous antiquarian bookseller told me, "People collect to stay alive and have a reason to live."

COUPLE KRISHNA AND MILANA NAGARAJ TO HEADLINE P C SHEKAR'S

LOVE BIRDS

Krishna and Milana Nagaraj

The shooting of the romantic drama, produced by Kaddipudi Chandru, will begin on May 30

A SHARADHAA

REAL-life couples Krishna and Milana Nagaraj of Love Mocktail fame are roped into headline PC Shekar's upcoming romantic drama. Titled Love Birds, the project already has Krishna on board. The team, who were in search of a female lead, have now finalised Milana Nagaraj for the role. The duo, who were first seen together in Preetham Gubbi's Nam Duniya Nam Style, later collaborated for Charlie and Love Mocktail.

Post marriage, the two worked for the Love Mocktail sequel. This will now mark their second film after their wedding.

Director Shekar is happy to have a real-life couple playing the leads in this film, which is set in a corporate sector backdrop. "With a real-life couple, the film has become even more interesting. Nowadays, both husband and wife come from different backgrounds and have independent lifestyles. This was not the case two decades ago. Now, the independence of individuals leads to friction. But what keeps them together is love, which is something I'm exploring in Love Birds," says Shekar.

The team plans to kick-start the start shoot on May 30. "The film's shooting will take place in a 55-day- schedule. We are currently erecting 18 sets, where we will be covering a lot of portions of the film," he says.

Shekar bills Love Birds as a romantic musical and is happy to team up with composer Arjun Janya for the ninth time. "We have seven tracks in the film, and it will be fresh tunes," he says. With Kaddipudi Chandru bankrolling the project, Love Birds will have Shakti Shekar as the cinematographer.

Rajeev Ganeshan has handled the cinematography of the film. Also, Ragini has Karva 3, and a couple of other films in Kannada and Telugu in the pipeline.

Tiger Shroff

Tiger Shroff wraps up Ladakh schedule of Ganapath

CE FEATURES

ACTION star Tiger Shroff has wrapped up the Ladakh schedule of his upcoming film Ganapath where he will be seen opposite Kriti Sanon.

The action-thriller is being helmed by Vikas Bahl of Queen fame.

Taking to his social media, the actor shared a picture from the sets of the film in Leh, Ladakh. He wrote in the caption, "Just wrapped the most challenging sched of my life... can't wait for you guys to see what's coming #ganapath (sic)."

Tiger has shot for a challenging set of actions in the Ladakh schedule which requires a certain kind of physicality and training.

Post this schedule wrap, he will start preparing for Rambo and then he will get into Bade Miyan Chote Miyan. The latter film will bring Akshay Kumar and Tiger together for the first time on screen.

'THERE IS NO AGE RESTRICTION WHEN IT COMES TO TALENT'

...says director Anil Kumar, who talks about his upcoming film, Kaneyadavara Bagge Prakatane starring senior actors Ravi Shankar, Rangayana Raghu, and Tabla Nani

Ravi Shankar, Rangayana Raghu and Tabla Nani

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Anil Kumar, known for the Yash-starrer My Name is Kirataka, Sharan's Rambo 2, Ajay Rao's Krishna Rukku, is awaiting the release of Dheeren Ramkumar's Shiva 143. While all his films had young stars as the lead, his next, Kaneyadavara Bagge Prakatane, brings together senior actors — Ravi Shankar, Rangayana Raghu and Tabla Nani — as the leads. "There is no age bar when it comes to entertainment and talent. It is all about choosing characters, and how they blend into the story. Secondly, most of today's filmmakers want to go by the formulaic commercial entertainers, and something even I have done. However, looking from the audience's point of view, they are updated today and their way of looking at entertainment has changed. So as a writer and director, I should also change the way of looking at scripts, and go by the people's tastes," says Anil Kumar, ahead of the film's release on May 27.

The story travels between 1960's, the 80s, and the present, and the director shares that the film is about friendship and human values. Incidentally, Anil's classmate, a police officer, helped him understand more about 'Missing people' and it came in handy while making the film. "My friend had a lot of references to give about 'Missing people' and I felt it was very interesting. I also researched about elderly homes, and I have used all these inputs in the film. Though it is a sensitive subject, I have given a commercial touch to it, and added a lot of humour and emotional elements to the film," says Anil.

Chikkanna

"I had Ravi Shankar, Rangayana Raghu, and Tabla Nani in my mind right from the scripting stage. Since I had previously worked with all of them, I knew they would be the perfect fit. Luckily, my script had the potential to draw them to our project. Apart from them, the film also stars Chikkanna, Tilak, and Ashika Ranganath," he says.

Alia Bhatt and Vijay Varma

Alia Bhatt's Darlings to stream on Netflix

CE FEATURES

ALIA Bhatt's debut production, Darlings, will release on Netflix, the streamer has announced.

Alia Bhatt, who marks her debut as a producer (Eternal Sunshine) with Darlings, said, "Darlings holds a very special place in my heart, it's my first film as producer that too with Red Chillies. We are very proud and happy how the film has shaped up and we hope it will entertain and engage audiences world over."

Director Jasmeet K Reen said, "I couldn't have asked for a better feature film debut—working with a pool of versatile and talented actors has been an absolute pleasure. I am delighted that Red Chillies and Eternal Sunshine are taking the film across the globe with Netflix."

Jessica, Peter Sarsgaard to headline feature film Memory

CE FEATURES

ACTORS Jessica Chastain and Peter Sarsgaard will headline an upcoming feature film titled Memory.

Directed by Michel Franco, the film is reported to revolve around a New York City staycation. The cast of the film also features Merritt Wever, Josh Charles, Elsie Fisher and Jessica Harper.

Memory is filmmaker Franco's second America-set film after 2015's Chronic. The filmmaker, whose other directorial credits include After Lucia, April's Daughter, and Sundown, had won the Venice Silver Lion Grand Jury Prize for his 2020 feature film New Order.

Memory is produced by Teorema in collaboration with High Frequency Entertainment, and in association with Screen Capital/Screen One, Mubi, and Case Study Films.

Gagan Dev Riar is Hansal Mehta's find for Scam 2003: The Telgi Story

CE FEATURES

Gagan Dev Riar

AFTER launching Pratik Gandhi in the Hindi mainstream with Scam 1992: The Harshad Mehta story, director Hansal Mehta has found his lead for Scam 2003: The Telgi Story. Gagan Dev Riar, a veteran theatre artist, has been roped in to play the role of Abdul Karim Telgi, a fruit seller who built an empire by counterfeiting stamp papers.

The series chronicles the life of Abdul Karim Telgi, a fruit-seller born in Khanapur in Karnataka, and his journey to becoming the mastermind behind one of the most ingenious scams in India. The scam, spread across multiple states, shook the entire country.
